birth of a new era at . . .

With anxious eyes and hopeful hearts we watched the birth of a new era take form, develop, and finally burst into new meaning for each of us. The attainment of university status has opened new doors, evoked more distinguished growth, made possible a unique recognition, and provided higher standards by which we may mold our lives. How our hearts swelled with pride last year when the document proclaiming this institution to be a university was signed by Governor Clement. Who can forget the selection of a new name, the reclassification of our academic program, the revision of the monument, or the first time we heard the chant of "MTSU". As we pass through the doorways of the very old and bleak, but yet quaint buildings, into the very new and modern erections of todays generation, we become aware of the ever increasing progress on our campus, this campus of which we are so much a part and which we do proudly uphold in its new perspective.

Improved loan and scholarship programs, new vistas in major and minor fields, improved leadership of professors and advisors, a continually increasing enrollment, and an added distinction visible on that ever-coveted "sheepskin" are only part of that "special something" which comes with the new title . . . UNIVERSITY! However improved this new status may be, we must not misinterpret the acceptance of this polished coat of armor. We have not leaped from college to university status, but rather we have gradually and progressively ascended the stairway leading to this more distinctive recognition. Instead of an obvious abandonment of our former classification, we graciously and proudly transcended the invisible barrier lying somewhere between MTSC and MTSU. By combining something of the old with something of the new, we have ultimately obtained this optimum goal.

and a new awareness of the responsibilities gained along with the new air that we have assumed. With this new name came a new spirit embodied in the many fields of higher education, excelling throughout the conference in the various areas of athletic competition, and expanding within the mind and soul of the individual as he constantly strives to explore and perhaps achieve new horizons. Through this compelling new spirit we have courageously tackled what seemed to be our most devastating enemy . . . reality. But, always remaining the victor, we quickly discover that our education is our most important weapon; and our spirit, which is as bold as the White and Blue that represent this institution of knowledge, is our source of courage! Out of this spirit comes the ever-present desire to enrich our lives through the more advanced principles of education, the many facets of a well-rounded university curriculum, and the numerous friendships made with fellow students throughout the year. Proudly we honor and humbly we dedicate our services through the medium of this growing new spirit!

old friends, and old philosophies. New and more meaningful distinction in the various fields of learning is graciously accepted by all but not at the expense of slighting those wonderful memories of past experience. Vaguely we recall that first day on the then strange and unfamiliar campus.

. but remaining with the old traditions

Through study-filled semesters, week-end frolics, and numerous pleasure walks, the campus seems to have taken on the look of a new but very warm and friendly face with many personalities. Columned buildings have assumed new and more projected features, but they do not attempt to replace the meaning that old and familiar sights hold for us. Yes, the students are much the same throughout the growth and development of universities everywhere, but their ideals and interests are ever reaching out for future goals and self improvement through advanced education. These steps to learning go hand-in-hand with the established traditions of our university. It is these same traditions and symbolic beliefs that have guided each of us through another year of satisfactory completion, moral enlightenment, and above all . . . a deeper understanding of ourselves and of the world of which we are a part.

. . . and holding to her heritage

A proud and strong heritage vividly in bloom during the fall festivities. The yearly competition for possession of Harvey, the coveted totem-pole, . . . the campus-wide selection of 1965's reigning Homecoming Queen . . . the tense moments as fans eagerly watch the Blue Raiders romp through another victorious year . . . and the poignant inflection of a cheerleader's enthusiastic yell, bring happy memories and unforgettable highlights to every student's University experiences. Pep-rallies, bon-fires, post-game dances, and an undefeatable spirit have given new zest and enthusiasm to both conventional and contemporary traditions. By a strong chain of traditions we are linked with a proud heritage which in turn becomes a student endowment. Someday that student will graduate and with him will go a link from this chain, but from this student will remain a contribution to add to a much stronger heritage.

. . . guided by capable hands

Administrators, counselors, and upper classmen; those hands, those spirits, those personalities which we so highly respect and without effort, so gladly serve. Hands that have skillfully guided and directed us through those first hectic days of changing classes, completing applications, and adhering to numerous campus regulations throughout the semesters until at last, final congratulations and a well earned diploma pass the responsibility, the burden of decision, from those capable hands into our own. To each, this University means something different, yet there is one element common to all: the attainment of our education; the fullfillment of our aspirations. With the correct guidance and counseling provided by faculty members and trained administrators, we may achieve those goals which have come to be so very real. Yes, there are innumerable hands that have given us this opportunity to mature as individuals and to face life as educated citizens in a vast, complicated, and ever-growing world.

. . . she prepares for the future

for through her colossal doors pass the educated men and women who will become tomorrow's leaders.

As the yearly enrollment constantly increases, many additional needs and requirements must be met by both the administration and the faculty. Not only must numerous and more adequate housing facilities be established, but additional classroom and educational materials must be added to the expansion program. It might be said that today's leading universities are insuring and paving the way for more complete educational experiences.

We, the graduates and undergraduates of Middle Tennessee State University, have acquired a storehouse of memories, . . . knowledge, . . . friends, . . . ticket-stubs, . . . sleepless nights, . . . crumpled programs, . . . skills, . . . and services from which to choose applicable solutions to many of the problems which life presents. Through this expanded educational process, we have become more capable and better prepared for our roles in life.

CAMPUS LIFE

Hopefully, the crux of all campus life resides in what happens in the classroom. But the classroom is not the lone crucible that forges the complete collegian. The dances, the dramatic productions, the fun nights, the football games, the gab sessions in the Terrace Room, the stroll down the red clay paths to nowhere in general, and other diversities spawned by our restless habitues bring balance and completeness—hopefully.

SPRING BRINGS MOMENTS OF RELAXATION

Spring comes during the death throes of another University year. But, near the moment of demise, Mother Nature drives its favorites outside—into the sun. There basking in this bright new warmth, the young Raiders and Raiderettes romp and play at the carnival or at May Day, or loll and meditate for awhile—in the sun.

A UNIVERSITY IS BORN

At 12:01 A.M., (or perhaps a few heartbeats earlier), July 1, 1965, "College" faded into history and the bright, new "University" aegis was welded to the monument down on the south campus. The ASB came through in a hurry with a dedication plan. There was the Mayor of Murfreesboro, two state legislators, and a whole register of other important people. The oratory, the Raider, the unveilers, and the small covey of onlookers were all there at the nativity of "University".

A.S.B. AT RETREAT

Near the witching hour, that is to say, just before the registration lines qued up at the Student Union Building, the ASB hied away to its Annual Retreat. There, with Mother Nature just a breath away, the plans and ground rules evolved for another University year. There were moments when the forum was pre-empted by Dame Nature herself and dullness was absent on the schedule of events .

The Closed Section Board tells the story!

CARD-PULLING CHAOS

The first traumatic experiences of the semester come real soon in the University year. These come with the problems of "bedding down," intellectually or in brief, registration. The frustrations are legion. There's the impasse created by closed classes, the hour the class is scheduled, whether or not it's on the first floor or is marshalled by a certain favorite professor. Some astute graduate student will some day compose a most creditable thesis showing unmistakably that there are direct relationships between success in the classroom and degrees of survival on the registration merry-go-round.

"Well, what do you have open?"

Sandra Jones finds the trials of registration frustrating.

Starlene Fly is perturbed with the routine of registration.

FROSH INTRODUCED TO UNIVERSITY LIFE

This is the eve before the tempest for everybody. It begins with the orientation marathon and all of the "do's" and "don'ts" anticipated for the year ahead pass in panoramic review. But this isn't so bad since students, in general, are conditioned to thirty minute television sequences, including commercials, and shortly thereafter tune-out and think of more fascinating things. The lessons learned later are more difficult, but this is Freshmen Week. Talent Night and the President's Reception—and lurking ominously in the early hours of the next day is the first class.

Barefoot and snaggle tooth . . . freshmen bring fresh, new talent to the campus.

The University is on its way. The football team never looked better nor the campus more beautiful. School spirit starts with a low rumble and bursts forth into a wild crescendo. For those few who may have developed emotional problems early, there's always the therapy of the battered old jalopy down near the Union Building. Sledgehammer blows can make one forget that early little test or the tiff with the loved one.

FIRST HOMECOMING OF THE NEW "U"

This is the moment of the rat race, the busiest season of the year, for this is Homecoming. There are the countless hours consumed in building floats for the downtown parade and other long hours creating original masterpieces to grace the dormitory facades. The sunshine brightened the face of the new university for visiting alumni. Queen Linda Duke was crowned and the Raiders hung another scalp in their trophy case.

VETS' SHOW, BEAUTY AND TALENT DELUXE

Our University has more queens per square inch than any other institution in our fair land . . . . . and for good reason. Pretty maidens have a habit of traipsing to the Raider campus. And what better way to display them is there than staging a queen spectacular? There will be more, says the crystal ball, for beauty grows with our enrollment.

SNOW BRINGS CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Dame Nature "picks her goose" at least once each year and the campus is cloaked in the pure white down. Gone are the ugly paths and the construction disarray. Everything has an evenness and a smoothness. Too, St. Nicholas emerges and many small fry are reminded again that Christmas is a gift from Galilee.

LETTERMEN, MATHIS TAKE CAMPUS

Low in the viscera of winter comes again the professional gaiety from the outside world. There are the Lettermen, refugees from the Ed Sullivan She-ow and what not. And, of course, Johnny Mathis and the Young Generation, out of orbit temporarily from their Golden Records and hob-knobbing with us down here in the hinterlands.

The Lettermen belt out another one.

"We can work it out, babe," croons one of the Lettermen.

Mathis held the audience of three thousand spellbound for over two hours.

PACKED HOUSE SEES

A prelude to the Miss Tennessee Pageant, mind you, was this year's Miss Midlander Beauty Pageant. Staged before a packed house, a segment of our campus pulchritude displayed their poise, elegance, their sparkling smiles . . . and their forms. And the lads and most of the lasses enjoyed every moment of it as did the contestants. The judges selected ten lovelies of which only one could hold the coveted title.

Back at the polls, Boner's "bones" and enthusiastic supporters were hexing all other opponents in the race for the ASB presidency. Placards, rallies, and speak-outs were all a part of the election fever, and students voted in three new leaders by a landslide. It's Boner, Blick, and McDaniel for the coming year!

BEAUTIES

Feminine beauty is a inflationary commodity on our campus, but no one seems to mind. Blondes, brunettes, redheads, the in-betweens, and the contrived are all displayed in the ingenious media of the students. Their generous endowments grace our classrooms, the beauty stages, the cafeterias, the tennis courts, and the campus crowds, both night and day. For having them, the campus is much better, and more decorative, too.

ATHLETICS

The one who said that a "university is an athletic compound staffed by divers bits of camouflage labelled 'professors' to give it the complexion of an educational institution" could not have been thinking of our University. MTSU's athletic program is part and parcel of the whole fabric. No cleavage separates the athlete, Joe College, and the academician. No reminder is evident that categorizes separately "Saturday's hero"—no more than that which delineates the campus debater, musician or the actor.

THE 1965 FOOTBALL SEASON . . .

When the season closed this past Thanksgiving the Raiders had added the third clear Ohio Valley Conference championship to the long skein of University football acclamations. Since 1952 the Raiders have won the title on three occasions and have shared in the honors a like number of times.

To say that this was a most satisfying season, one would first have to balance against it the hundreds of frayed nervous systems and faltering hearts induced by at least five games. These memorable encounters whose outcomes were determined, literally, by the final whistles include Austin Peay, Murray State, Morehead, Eastern Kentucky, and Tennessee Tech. In all games the Raiders put together 286 points while the opposition was hot in pursuit with 157. Whether or not the 1965 Raider edition can be ranked the best in University history will always be a matter of conjecture. One thing is sure, it was, hands down, the most exciting.

In the wake of the OVC title came many other honors. Five Raider gridders—Atchley, Morris, Smith, Claxton, and Dotson—were All OVC. Hlodan, Victory, and Langford were placed on the second eleven. Atchley and Morris were defensive and offensive players of the year in the OVC. Atchley was Little American and Morris received honorable mention. Coach Charles "Bubba" Murphy was acclaimed OVC and NCAA regional "Coach of the Year." And finally, the Raiders were ranked second nationally by the Associated Press and third by UPI.

Raider Hooves Subdue Lions, 40-14

The opener against the Lions of Florence State was less than a harbinger of the heart-stopping season ahead. The Raiders rolled to an easy 40-14 win with quarterbacks Teddy Morris and Billy Walker, in particular, exploiting a leaky pass defense. The "Thunderbolt," Morris, that is, understudy Billy Joe Walker, and the understudy's understudy Mickey Bowers combined their efforts in twenty-six passing attempts, fifteen completions, and 350 aerial yards.

Junior Vols Fall, 28-14

The second game of the season against the University of Tennessee Martin Branch continued in the low-key tradition of the first. Although winning rather easily, 24-14, Coach Murphy was loath at this point to commit the Raiders to championship calibre. Ace quarterback Teddy Morris and a virus sat this one out while understudy Billy Walker turned in a great performance. The passing of Walker and scoring thrusts by Robertson, Hlodan, and Moody combined to make for a very pleasant evening for the Raider homefolks.

Hilltoppers Flattened, 21-0

This was the moment of conception, this game with the Western Hilltoppers, for Murphy's Marauders came into being and for good reason. The rugged defensive unit of Randolph, Victory, Atchley, Dotson, Claxton, and the others held the Kentuckians to a bare 38 yards rushing. Meanwhile, back in the secondary, and whilst the Marauders were sealing off the pass, Teddy Morris was having his greatest day. While working the option to perfection, he scored two touchdowns, and for good measure, threw another six-pointer to Caplenor.

Unfortunately many Raider fans failed to take along a supply of heart pills to Richmond, Kentucky, on the afternoon of October 9. For on this day the Murphy men made their first descent into the zone of the cardiac. The Raiders were outdowned, outpassed, and outrushed—but most important for the record book—not outscored. The game hung in a frantic balance until the last whistle with bright spots Morris, Robertson, Smith and Jones in the saving day.

Recovering from the nightmarish Eastern squeaker the Raiders roared back against the tough Moccasins from Chattanooga. In the fifth game and one in which they probably experienced their finest hour, the Raiders defanged the visitors 30-7. Govs Fall In Thriller, 24-20

The game of the year! And that's just what it was. Setting was in Clarksville's Municipal Stadium against the Govs of Austin Peay. Both teams were undefeated. The afternoon tug-of-war produced another basketball score, 24-20, and like many other Raider encounters, the outcome was in doubt until the final whistle. The heroics of Teddy Morris, who completed 12 of 22 passes, engineered the Raiders from the brink of defeat and to the seventh win of the season.

Not to be denied the elements of awesome suspense, the Raiders staged another spine-tingling, last-minute cliffhanger to win 28-24. Raiders Take Bucs, 43-19

Homecoming was just fine. The foil was the Buccaneers of East Tennessee. The final score 43-19 does not in any way reflect the tenacious struggle of the afternoon. In fact, the Raiders were behind 19-14 at halftime. But despite the efforts of the upset-minded, fired-up Bucs and brief extra-game activities near the sidelines, the ninth win went into the record book. Morris threw for three touchdowns and carried two over himself. Hlodan and Walker also sparkled in the victory.

ATCHLEY NAMED LITTLE ALL-AMERICAN

Keith Atchley, captain of the Raiders, was a tremendous bulwark in what was probably the best defensive line in the conference. His slashing, inspired play at the linebacker position became the bane of opposing ballcarriers. It also was the inspiration that welded the tough forewall into an almost impregnable unit. Keith, at 195 pounds, led the surge that turned several Raider encounters from defeat to victory.

O.V.C. HONORS MURPHY, MORRIS AND ATCHLEY

Ohio Valley Conference champion Middle Tennessee State swept individual honors in the OVC this year by having the coach of the year and offensive and defensive players of the year.

Coach Charles (Bubber) Murphy was selected by his fellow coaches as OVC Coach of the Year, while quarterback Teddy Morris was named offensive Player of the Year and guard Keith Atchley was named defensive Player of the Year.

Murphy led MTSU to its second straight OVC championship and in his 19 years at Middle Tennessee has won seven OVC championships. He has a coaching record of 139 wins, 45 losses and eight ties.

Morris, a 5-11, 175-pound senior, won the offensive honors by a large margin. The Murfreesboro native set new OVC marks in total offense, passing yardage and touchdown passes.

He also set new conference season records for passing yardage, total offense and touchdown passes.

Atchley captain of the Raiders, was a tremendous bulwark in what was probably the best defensive line in the conference. The 5-11, 195 pounder was a constant threat to the man with the ball on every play.

O.V.C. Commissioner Art Guepe taps Coach Murphy for O.V.C. "Coach of the Year," and Keith Atchley and Teddy Morris as "Defensive Player of the Year" and "Offensive Player of the Year."

BASKETBALL '66

The 1965-66 Raider basketball season was not the brightest of Raider Cage seasons as the roundballers finished with a record of 7 wins and 17 losses. But it could well have been the most exciting Raider basketball team in recent years. As Coach Ken Trickey endeavored to overcome the lack of height and speed, he countered with a tight defense supported by team hustle. It was this combination that gave University students many exciting moments this year.

Coach Trickey loses only one man from this year's five, and the departing one is Captain Tom Whittington. The brightest spot for the Raiders will be the return next year of the team's leading scorer, Bobby Gardner, who ripped the cords for 18 points a game during the past season. Coach Trickey can also smile over the return of Ed "Boom-Boom" Cannon who was among the nation's finest rebounders as he hauled in 13.2 loose balls per game.

But all-in-all, Trickey's cagers performed as well as could be expected, what with their lack of height in the rough-and-tough Ohio Valley Conference.

Team Captain Tom Whittington

"Boom-Boom," with the greatest of ease, hits again.

Coaches Ken Trickey and Jimmy Earle

It's a bird, it's a plane—it's Jay Cole for two.

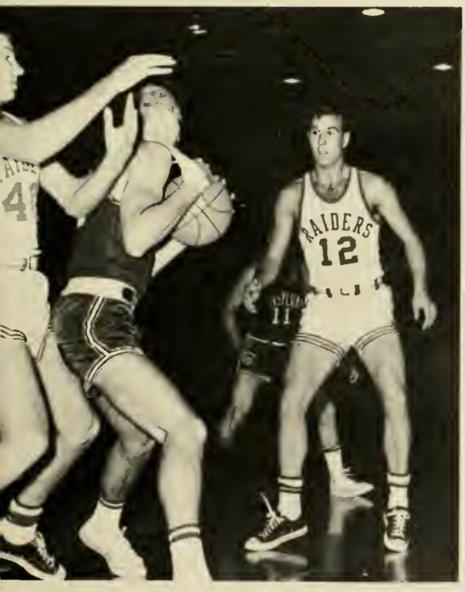
Our man Ed fires away like a cannon "Boom."

All alone, almost. Gil Ford adds two.

'It's so easy if he would just move his hand."

Bobby Gardner, good from any angle, adds two more.

And they call it basketball?



"I don't care if it is your ball, it's my rebound."

Sutter once again rips the cords.

TRACK '66

Team Captain, Junior Ward

This season the Raider cindermen fielded some of the nation's finest athletes. Included in this category are shot-putter Brian Oldfield and sprinter Jerry Singleton. The Raider Mile relay team is always one of the nation's best.

Similar to the baseball team, the Raider thinnies were under the direction of a new coach. He is Dean Hayes who comes to M.T.S.U. with a wide and varied background in track. He was assistant coach at Lake Forest College prior to accepting the post with the Blue Raiders. Hayes was named "Athlete of the Year" at Lake Forest in 1958 and won four letters in track. He coached for one year in Minneapolis, Minnesota, and six years in the Illinois Public Schools. Hayes is well known in track circles throughout the nation and worked in the Pan-American Games in 1959. Since arriving at M.T.S.U. in September, 1965, Hayes has demonstrated that he intends to bring the Blue Raiders to the front in track. He has added a full indoor schedule, and his outdoor schedule matches his squad against some of the toughest competition in the nation.

Barney uncorks with the platter.

One of the Nation's best with the shot.

Sprinter, Jerry Singleton

BASEBALL

This year's Raider baseball team opened its 1966 season under new Coach Jimmie Earle. Only five seniors—catcher Jay Turmon, first baseman David Kirk, first baseman Richard Davenport, third baseman Ken Victory and outfielder David Church—were returnees.

The Raiders were led this year by adroit fielder Ken Victory, while returning lettermen David Kirk and David Church provided the offensive punch for Coach Earle's Raiders. On the mound the big winners were Paul Smith and freshman Chuck Machado.

With Coach Earle's youth movement, the Raiders this season played the fullest schedule ever which consisted of 26 games.

Coach Jimmie Earle joined the Blue Raider Coaching staff last September as head baseball mentor and assistant basketball coach. He is a 1958 graduate of M.T.S.U. Earle returned to his Alma Mater after serving as head coach of basketball and baseball at Martin Junior College for the past four years.

TENNIS

This year the Raiders netmen returned every member from last year's outstanding team that ended last season with an 11 and 4 record. Once again the netters were paced by team Captain John Prevost.

Again the Blue Raiders were guided by Coach Buck Bouldin. Bouldin's tennis experience began at Washington and Lee University where he was a member of the varsity for three years. And in 1951 Bouldin served as tennis coach for his Alma Mater.

The success of the Blue Raiders under his guidance has been phenomenal. Prior to his accepting the reins at M.T.S.U., the Raiders had won only two matches in four seasons. In his building program, Bouldin posted a record of 10 wins and 1 loss in his first year. And last season against stiffer competition, Coach Bouldin netters compiled a record of 11 wins and 4 losses. This season the Raiders schedule was the toughest in the university's history.

Chick Fuller competes against Jack Albino's "powerful serve" during practice.

Jack Whitley, ready for action . . .

Steve Wakefield, John Prevost, and Jack Whitley spend many hours in practice which account for the team's outstanding record.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

The Big Three, Jack Haley, Coach E. K. Patty, and Dan Lewis.

Bob Wolfe shows Dan Lewis how it's done!

GOLF

Under the direction of Coach E. K. Patty the M.T.S.U. linksmen have become one of the winningest teams in the nation. The start of this golf season saw Coach Patty's linksmen with a 53 straight winning streak for dual meets.

But the high point in M.T.S.U. golf history came last summer when the Raiders breezed through the NCAA College Division Golf Tournament 45 strokes ahead of the second place finishers. And Raider Larry Gilbert placed first in individual scoring.

Although Gilbert was lost by graduation, Coach Patty had four lettermen returning for this season. These were team captain Jack Haley, Don Lewis, Bob Wolf, and George Cozbill.

Now that Middle Tennessee has taken a place among the nation's top golfing schools, it can be anticipated that there will be many more years of winning golf here at M.T.S.U. because Dr. E. K. Patty continually demonstrates his abilities as a master recruiter.

Out of the sand trap, at last!

Priscalla Palmer enthusiastically encourages another Raider victory.

CHEERLEADERS

Coach Murphy's Blue Raiders went undefeated for another season, but not without the help of some thirteen enthusiastic cheerleaders. For the first time, the squad included male cheerleaders as well as the perky coeds.

Proper thanks for the much needed TD is given.

"Go-Go-Pleeze Go!"

Captain Pat Strother leads a yell.

BOOK IV

LEADERSHIP AND HONORARIES

One of the most significant characteristics of our growing University is the gradual escalation in academic excellence. Year by year more recognition is given to these who walk in the scholar's limelight. There's the Dean's List and the Honors Assembly. But the most forceful reminder that campus performance is continually moving upward is the great proliferation of new honorary groups each year.

WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES

To receive recognition in the elite group known as "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" is the first mark of a man's success and a hint at what the future might bring. Those who are pictured here may be proud of the honor which they have achieved. These students have been selected on the basis of their outstanding scholarship, participation and leadership in academic and extra curricular activities, citizenship and service to the school and promise of future usefulness.

Through this organization, deserving students from all phases of college life are rewarded for their diligence, loyalty, and hard work. Among those chosen-few are church group leaders, band members, A.S.B. officers, cheerleaders, yearbook and newspaper staff members, amateur theatre celebrities, and many others who have attained the ultimate in their fields.

These are the ones who hopefully, wistfully, and without restraint reach for the stars . . . the seemingly impossible of their very lives. May their good works and deserving rewards be the guiding light for those incoming frosh whose high strung hopes and dreams are all too soon crushed under the strain of life at a University.

ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY

BERT WAKELEY
President

ELINOR BRANDON
Female Vice President

HAROLD SMITH
Male Vice President

Last year's A.S.B. officials put our student government on a sound fiscal basis. This year the A.S.B. has built on this solid foundation. Striving to please the students, the main duty of the Associated Student Body, it has not only brought the best possible entertainment to our campus—The Lettermen, The Dick Clark Show, the Johnny Mathis Show, The Harlem Globetrotters, etc.—but, have initiated a Student Discount Service, greater active support for athletic events, discussions and lectures concerning fraternities, and many other reforms to better serve the students. Under the leadership of Bert Wakeley, Elinor Brandon, and Harold Smith, this year's A.S.B. has been active, not passive. Much of its time was taken up with the amending of our Constitution to make it a workable document. These changes will serve to strengthen the legislative and judicial branches of our student government.

Bill Baskin, this year's Secretary of Student Affairs, brought honor to our University by being elected the Vice-Chairman for Tennessee representing the student government organiaztion to which we belong, the Southern University Student Government Association.

In all its activities this year, the A.S.B. has tried to live up to the motto . . . "Always See Beyond the Beginning."

THE SENATE

The Senate is composed of thirteen students who give of their time and of themselves for fellow associates. The main job of the Senate is to work co-operatively with the House of Representatives in passing legislation and recommendations. Because of the creation of new laws and the constant revision of old laws, the students at M.T.S.U. are continuously receiving benefits which possibly would not exist but for the Senate. The major accomplishment of the 1965-66 Senate has been the rewriting of our present A.S.B. constitution. The extra sessions have resulted in a new constitution, which is for a better and stronger student government.

The House of Representatives is the latest addition to the legislative branch of the A.S.B. During its second year of establishment, the House has concentrated its efforts on revising the A.S.B. Constitution in order to strengthen the mechanics of student government as a whole. This constitutional revising proved to be a tedious process; however through long hours of laborous work, the House and Senate together produced a remarkably improved constitution. As a result of this revision, the House of Representatives will become a more active branch in the A.S.B. government in years to come.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

As the name implies, this group of students concerns themselves with the social aspects of student life. To prevent M.T.S.U. students from perishing from boredom, a fun night is provided weekly with combo favorites. . . . The Fairlanes . . . . The Chardes . . . . The Kapers. . . . and movies are held in the theatre atmosphere of the new Dramatic Arts Auditorium. Student participation in provided-functions creates the necessary incentive on which the Social Committee thrives.

Seated: Linda Richardson, Gracy Aiken, Cathy Edwards, Mary Jo Gill, Elinor Brandon. Standing: Mike Crosswhite, George Atwood, Don Murphy, Roger Young.

HOSTESS COMMITTEE

The A.S.B. Hostess Committee is composed of a group of charming MTSU co-eds who have an important job—making guests to our campus feel welcome. They are also responsible for the A.S.B. banquet . . . and that's quite a job in itself.

Sandra Rouse, Janice Reed, Sylvia Lauderdale, Kathy Walker, Betty Jane Spry.

SUPREME COURT

The Supreme Court of the Associated Student Body is, in many areas, the final authority at M.T.S.U. This is true on all matters concerning the Constitution and all laws passed by Congress. It is also the final authority concerning parking ticket appeals. The Court also tries any disciplinary cases referred to it by the proper authority. Under the guidance of Mr. Chief Justice Roger Brandon, the Supreme Court has been very active this year and greatly strengthened its position in our student government.

ELECTION COMMISSION

Mary Cardiff, Karen Thompson, Larry Blick, Chairman of the Election Commission; Don Thornberry.

Bill Baskin casts Dean Hampton a cautious glance as he and Lou Baker take time out for a more than friendly chat at the A.S.B. Retreat.

KAPPA DELTA PI

The Theta Omicron Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi was organized for the express purpose of recognizing outstanding University students in the area of education. Generally this organization is designed to promote excellence in scholarship, high personal standards, improvement in teacher preparation, distinction in achievement, and contributions to education. Membership is open to juniors, seniors, and graduate students who rank in the upper quintile of their respective classes. Also, candidacy must include a commitment to enter the teaching profession.

The two initiation ceremonies, which are scheduled for fall and spring of each year, are very impressive. Candidates subscribe to the induction pledge by candlelight and then each is pinned with the traditional purple and gold ribbon. This ribbon is required to be worn for one week following the ceremony. Each spring, at the conclusion of the initiation ceremony, the annual banquet is held. Outstanding speakers have been obtained for these occasions.

Continuing activities include a recognition night for scholarship freshmen and an honor roll for those whose names appear on the Dean's List.

DELTA OMICRON

Ann Sanders, President

Another bright new honorary society on the University campus is Delta Omicron. It claims as its nativity date, March of 1965. Its primary activity is in the area of music and it is nationally affiliated with what is designated as the Professional Panhellenic. Its membership, now eighteen, is open to music majors who have attained a 3.0 average in music classes and a 2.5 in their composite program.

The objectives of Delta Omicron are to: (1) stimulate appreciation of good music, (2) encourage women composers, and (3) create an interest in the music of American composers. It has monthly meetings in addition to sponsoring monthly musicales. It renders services at various departmental programs, participates in the ASB Carnival, and operates refreshment booths at recitals. Mrs. Margaret Wright is faculty sponsor and Mrs. David Martin is chapter sponsor.

The primary emphasis of Pi Gamma Mu is to stimulate interest in the social studies. Specifically, it (1) strives to improve scholarship in the social studies, (2) attempts to inspire an intelligent approach to the solution of social problems, and (3) attempts to establish better understanding among groups of varying opinions and philosophies. Candidacy is attained by those having twenty or more hours in the social sciences with a B average and no unsatisfactory grades. Pi Gamma Mu meets monthly. Among its activities are included one dinner meeting or party each semester, co-sponsoring of outstanding speakers, and two initiations annually.

In a world that is beset with quioxtic attempts to solve social problems, the ideals establishing Pi Gamma Mu appear to be very appropriate. Since the meetings provide occasions for "trying out" ideas and philosophies in a more unrestricted atmosphere than that found in the classroom, the organization can add much to the social science majors perspective and development. Dr. Roscoe Strickland is sponsor of the group.

SIGMA CLUB

The Sigma Club has a membership of forty men and meets monthly on the second Monday evening. Invitations, fall and spring, are the most unique of any other organization on the campus. Many former Sigma members return as speakers and as participants in the initiation ceremonies. Members are selected on the basis of academic achievement, leadership ability, and on contributions which they have made to the University as students. The organization emphasizes in its activities as ascendency of the intellectual and spiritual as opposed to the physical and material.

The Sigma Club, in 1927, grew out of the Research Club of Middle Tennessee State Normal School. It is one of the oldest, if not the oldest club on the Campus. Membership in the club is an exemplary honor for junior and senior men. Its president, Jimmy Pack, states that "The organization incorporates in its requirements for membership all of the qualities of personality and intellect which the University has sought to use as a standard since its founding many years ago." Dr. Gerald Parchment and Mr. Clayton James are the co-sponsors.

PI OMEGA PI

Steve Renner, President

Pi Omega Pi is one of the most active organizations on the campus. Its motto, "Loyalty, Service, and Progress," is very appropriate for this wide-awake group. Among its activities are included contributions to a scholarship fund, a typewriting contest for area high school students, publishing a monthly departmental newspaper, a social outing, annual banquet, and a Christmas project. The Christmas project provides food, clothes, and toys for a needy family.

Pi Omega Pi, as a national organization, was established in 1923 but has since become known better as the National Business Education Honor Society. In 1965 it became recognized as a member of the Association of College Honor Societies. The MTSU Chapter was honored this year by having Elizabeth Taylor (our Elizabeth) elected to the office of National Student Representative.

A student meeting the necessary qualifications in the National Business Education Honor Society must be in the upper 35% of his class and must be enrolled in the Business Education program. Sponsor for the organization is Mrs. Henrietta Wade.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA

"The play's the thing" is a cliche that has been dulled by much usage, but not so with the Alpha Psi Omega. This organization is dedicated to the concentration necessary to bring the immortal Bard's testimonial into sharp focus. To be eligible for membership a student must have earned a minimum of one hundred hours work in connection with play production and must have demonstrated proficiency in at least three fields of dramatic endeavor. These fields include designing, set construction, managing, directing, costuming, lighting, make-up, or acting.

The Lambda Gamma Cast, derived from this fraternity, has as its objective to promote excellence in the dramatic arts, particularly the field of acting. Two presentation areas in the beautiful, well-planned Dramatic Arts Building are the large auditorium and the smaller Arena Theatre. In the Arena Theatre, cuttings from established plays are presented while full-scale dramatic productions requiring more spacious sets are staged in the acoustically-perfect auditorium. The membership of the Alpha Psi Omega fraternity is involved in all of these productions during the year.

KAPPA OMICRON PI

Kappa Omicron Phi is another one of the University's prestigious honorary fraternities. The organization is composed of home economics majors who have met the qualifications of high character and ideas, academic achievements, and leadership ability. The fraternity assists in developing the best interests of home economics majors during their four years at the University.

The year's program for Kappa Omicron Phi encompassed a wide range of activities. A popular mum corsage sale in the fall provided revenue for several projects. One of the highlights of the year was the Founders Day Banquet. At that time the founding sisters of the national affiliate were honored. Outstanding speakers appeared on the program and several administrative staff members were special guests. The fraternity sponsors the Mother-Patroness Service and a program for assisting a needy family during the Christmas season. The fraternity's motto is "Prove all things, hold fast to that which is true, and the truth will make you free." Mrs. Lucille Estes sponsors the organization.

Despite the almost overwhelming emphasis placed on many emerging professions and the re-gilding of older ones, agriculture still remains as the well-spring of American economy. It has evolved from the hit-and-miss era to that of the present scientific. Agriculture has now become a business, with modern business practices, rather than the optimistic, or pessimistic, gamble of yesterday. The philosophy motivating the formation of the agriculture fraternity, Delta Tau Alpha, fits snugly into this "new look." The organization was formed at Middle Tennessee State University in the fall of 1964 and was officially recognized by the National Society on April 27, 1965. Membership requirements are in keeping with the purposes of Delta Tau Alpha. Candidacy is attained by those having completed at least fifteen semester hours in agricultural courses earning an average of "B," at least forty-five semester hours of other University courses earning an average of "C," and receiving a favorable vote of two-thirds of the membership of the chapter.

The principal objectives of Delta Tau Alpha are to promote high standards in scholarship, leadership, and character among students in agriculture and to render service to the University.

Embree Franklin Blackwell, Jr.
President

DELTA TAU ALPHA

GAMMA BETA PHI

Gamma Beta Phi is one of those across-the-board campus organizations. This means that it claims membership from the student body at large. It was organized during the fall of 1965 under the direction of Dr. Aaron Todd of the Chemistry and Physics Department. Its purpose is to serve as a service and as an educational fraternity. Although membership is small at the present, plans are underway to increase its size and thereby extend its effectiveness. Membership is open to those in the 2.7 range who are sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Another qualifying point requires that the candidate prepare a brief paper on some aspect and meaning of life.

Gamma Beta Phi meets once each month for what sponsor Dr. Aaron Todd describes as "intellectually stimulating programs." Projects in the offering include assisting with tutoring and registration, and channeling descriptive material about the University to secondary school students.

EPSILON PI TAU

Epsilon Pi Tau is an honorary-professional fraternity operating in the complementary fields of industrial arts and industrial-vocation education. It is open to industrial majors who have demonstrated profiency in the field. With more and more importance being placed on industrialization in the world today, these members are motivated to excel in their skills so that they may be better prepared to meet the needs of the advancing times. Major goals of the fraternity are (1) to recognize the place of skill, (2) to promote social and professional proficiency, and (3) to foster and reward research and to publish and use its results.

The International Honor Fraternity, Epsilon Pi Tau, was founded in 1928 at the Ohio State University by Dr. William E. Warner. Presently there are seventy-four chapters scattered around the globe. Membership is divided among the General, Laureate, and Honorary classification. The sponsor of the organization is Mr. O. L. Freeman, an alumnus of Middle Tennessee State University and a member of the University faculty since 1931.

TAU OMICRON

One of the most highly coveted honors among the junior and senior women of Middle Tennessee State University is membership in Tau Omicron. An invitation to join this organization implies that a woman is an exceptional individual in several aspects. Tau Omicron was established in the fall of 1930. The purposes of the organization are to bring into closer fellowship a group of the highest type of girls for mutual help, both to each other and to their Alma Mater; to promote scholarship; and to uphold the standards and ideals of this institution of learning.

Invitations are held twice each year in addition to a fall and spring luncheon. Alumni members of Tau Omicron are invited to attend the luncheon. During the spring of 1965 a loan fund was initiated. Junior and senior women, with a 2.0 cumulative average are eligible to apply for the loan. This year, members of T O launched a tutoring service which, in the opinion of the members, proved highly successful. The chapter also prepared fruit baskets which were delivered to Murfreesboro nursing homes.

Another one of the University's newest professional clubs is Alpha Kappa Psi. It began as Psi Kappa Alpha in March of 1965 and, upon receiving its charter last May, it changed its designation to the Zeta Psi Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi. Since that time it has initiated over thirty-five students and five faculty members including two department heads. Its principal purposes are to be of service to the University and to arrange a professional program for Business Administration majors and Business Education majors in order to assist in the development of a well-rounded University graduate.

Its activities have included field trips to the Samsonite Company in Murfreesboro and to the Space Center at Huntsville, Alabama. Programs have been highlighted by several speakers drawn from the field of business. Alpha Kappa Psi also sponsored a Christmas Party for the Good Shepherd's Home located near Murfreesboro. Dr. Robert Martin is the sponsor.

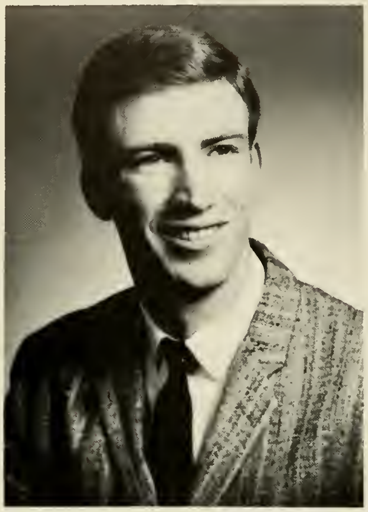
PI SIGMA EPSILON



Tony N. Riggins, President

Pi Sigma Epsilon was organized on December 11, 1965, by members of the Business Administration faculty. Its purposes are: (1) to promote studies in the fields of sales and marketing, (2) to bring into a closer association business leaders and University students, (3) to create a collegiate brotherhood in the areas of sales and marketing, and (4) to improve ethical standards in these areas.

The composition of the membership of Pi Sigma Epsilon is an interesting departure from most campus groups. In addition to the present roll of twenty-two students and six faculty members, there are fourteen area businessmen who are bonafide members. Projects in conjunction with the off campus representation, have included the sale of automobile tags to assist disabled people in the area and other promotional programs to disseminate information about sales and marketing. Mr. Billy Balch is sponsor of the fraternity.

The MTSU Accounting Society is a high chair among the rockers, or it could be more clearly said that it is one of the youngest student activity groups on the campus. The charter was granted in February of this year and the first initiation was held on March 3. Mr. Paul E. Dowell was chosen as its first sponsor. The organization will underline the vast new world of accounting created by an expanding economy and the spiraling pattern of business. It will endeavor to promote, by projects and special programs, further interest in accounting and to add prestige to the growing profession.

The Accounting Society plans to maintain continuing communications with accounting alumni and to keep them apprised of new campus developments. Each year it will administer the Joe Dearman Memorial Accounting Award. The recipient will be the senior judged as the outstanding major. Mr. Dearman was a long time supporter of the Accounting Department before his death in 1965.

ACTIVITIES

The collegian discovers many outlets for his diverse talents on the University campus. Although non-credit in nature, these activities extend his development far beyond the classroom and enable him to enjoy the good life in those leisure moments which our society provides in abundance. Incidental writing, appreciation of good music, enjoyment of the works of talented artists and other activities bred on the campus assist in rounding out a good education.

1966 MIDLANDER

Time moves on and in doing so, sets before us a challenge to capture the ambitions, the brilliance, the exasperations, and the explosiveness of this generation. We are the crux of the "Space Age" generation, but with all of our knowledge and all of our advanced technology, will we still recall in the years to come that special date, that frustrating first day, or that all important touchdown of our university years?

Only within these pages do we find a pictorial history of the emotions we experienced, the tears we shed, and the many, many facets of our life at MTTSU that could not be expressed and could not be recalled by words alone. This is the reason that institutions such as ours and students such as you devote many hours to the production of a yearbook. If this MIDLANDER serves you well, fellow student of this very special age, our efforts will not have been futile and our rewards will be greatly realized.

Assistant Editor, Linda Wilbanks, helps Danny prepare lay-out organization for the Midlander.

Editor Danny Holder, flanked by Miss Midlander, Martha Lunn and Miss Congeniality, "Sis" Jones beams with pride after his second successful Midlander Pageant.

Bonnie Holder explains her plight to WSM's Jud Collins and the T.V. audience, "I married the Editor!"

Student Photographer, Jim Norton catches himself and Miss Midlander Contestant, Doris Jones, in the dressing room mirror.

Business Staff, Georgia Ann Ellis, Sandy Safley, and Judy Wilson contemplate the year's advertising campaign.

The staff escorted Miss Midlander contestants to appear on WSM television during pageant week.

Bonnie Holder introduces Miss Midlander contestants to WSM audience. Martha Lunn, third from left, received the crown and was the first MTSU representative in the Miss Tennessee Pageant.

Adding to staff organization as well as contributing to hysterical moments of laughter are Mandy Gentry, Bill Boner, and Donna Kay George.

Editor's private secretary, Charlene Lorance.

Mr. Joe Smith, busy band director and photographer, provides the Midlander with unique photos for yearbook reproduction.

Moments of decision arise with each new edition, and fall editor, Ann Norman, ponders over the latest issue.

The spring editor, Tony Pendergrass, finds a mailbox for each of his staff members helpful for inter-staff communications.

SIDELINES

The Sidelines Staff took as one of its prime objectives for 1965-66 to arouse more student interest in its publications. The controversies which soon arose on the editorial pages proved to be what the students had been waiting for, and the paper came alive as a "voice of the university." Staff members proudly stood by as the papers were grabbed for each Tuesday soon after they arrived from the printers.

Once student interest was aroused, the staff sought to be worthy of the response in many ways. Regular staff meetings were reestablished, and the number of active workers was increased. Circulation became more widespread, and potential advertisers took more notice in our newspaper. The editor and business manager along with their sponsor, Mr. Eugene Sloan, traveled to Florida in October to attend the SUSGA Publications Workshop and came back with bigger and better ideas as well as a knowledge of the problems of college newspapers throughout the South.

The year continued and with the Christmas season came the first of the twelve-page issues the Sidelines had. With the coming of the spring semester, the newspaper was put in the hands of a new editor. Tony Pendergrass took over his new position following the resignation of Ann Norman, who had been editor for one year. Tony soon learned the meaning of late and long hours spent over copy and picked up the tricks of the trade to keep the Sidelines alive for its readers.

The Spring staff undertook the task of expanding to twelve-pages from eight whenever possible in an attempt to keep pace with the growing university. The '65-66 Sidelines had offered itself as an organ for presentation of student opinion . . . the students had responded . . . it was a "newsworthy" year.

BAND OF BLUE

The Band of Blue gained nationwide recognition last November when its halftime show was televised from the huge D.C. stadium in Washington. The Blue musicians performed at the Washington Redskins—Dallas Cowboys professional football game. The University band is also in great demand for various programs such as parades and celebrations.

Similar to the Raider, it has become a symbol of the University, and many of its routines are used by Tennessee high schools.

The Band of Blue performs at all home football games and at a few on foreign fields. The precision in the execution of the many intricate formations reflects the hours of practice on the field to the east of the football stadium.

The high quality of the band is due principally to the perfectionism of its directors, Mr. Joe Smith and Mr. Horace Beasley. During the marching season, Mr. Smith assumes full command with Mr. Beasley as the assistant. During the concert period, the procedure is reversed. Mr. Smith has to his credit several arrangements and original compositions. Both of the directors are in great demand at music festivals and majorette training programs.

The M.T.S.U. Community Orchestra . . . ready to play.

THE UNIVERSITY-COMMUNITY ORCHESTRA

The Orchestra offers opportunity to music students and members of the community to work together to learn and perform that peculiar great body of music indigenous to the Symphony Orchestra. Through rehearsals and performances, members are led to discover style and techniques of works and performance problems pertinent to their playing.

Occasionally the orchestra is augmented by string players from professional ranks, so that members and listeners may more fully enjoy the great symphonic works performed with string instrumentation required for greatest satisfaction. Several members of the University faculty and staff play in the orchestra as do some approximately 30 selected students. T. Earl Hinton is the director.

TREBLE CHORALE

The Treble Chorale is the newest choral organization of the Music Department. Composed of approximately 35 young women, the chorale presents musical works from the literature of those composers who have chosen to write for treble chorus. Rehearsals and performances are designed to educate participants and listeners to the beauty of such music and to inform the participants of the problems of performing. Vocal skills and techniques are part of rehearsal procedures. The Chorale offers membership through auditions to all university women students. Since its beginning the Chorale has been directed by T. Earl Hinton and accompanied by Mary D. Scott, members of the music faculty.

The Middle Tennessee State University Concert Choir.

CONCERT CHOIR

Under the direction of Mr. Neil Wright, the University Concert Choir is another one of the talented musical units on the campus. Its tours of high schools throughout the mid-state area are valuable media for recruiting. In addition, it provides opportunities for the general public to appreciate the quality of instruction rendered by the University. Its members are chosen from try-outs only. In addition to the tours, the Concert Choir presents outstanding fall and spring concerts.

SACRED HARP SINGERS

The Middle Tennessee State University Sacred Harp Singers were organized at the university in the summer of 1947 and are composed of eleven singers. The group sings a capella, seated around a table, in Sixteenth Century madrigal style. The reportoire consists of early English madrigals and folk songs, Sacred Harp hymns and white spirituals, and Southern folk songs and ballads. The group is well known throughout the Southern States for its numerous concert appearances and broadcast programs. The tour this year will include concerts at Martin College in Pulaski, Westwood School in Manchester, Brainerd and Tyner High Schools in Chattanooga, Harriman High School, and Touden High School.

ENSEMBLES

Under the direction of Dr. Kenneth Pace, ensembles on the MTSU campus provide chamber music at concerts throughout the year for the community and for area high schools. They also assist the faculty of the music department in conducting clinics designed to promote the development of the musical arts in Middle Tennessee. This group is only one of the many musical groups which continues to serve MTSU with a high level of cultural achievement.

FINE ARTS

Cultural advancement is a vital element necessary to a complete modernization and expansion of the campus. Imagination, creativity, ability to perform, excellence of intellect . . . these are the ingredients necessary for actual exercise in the widely varied categories of the field of fine arts. Here a very sharp cutting edge distinguishes the difference between showmanship and skill. Our expanding cyclorama of fine arts speaks for a high degree of talent, ability, and a promise for the future.

The mystery of the musician is captured by the art of photography.

The art of Theatre Make-up . . . that extra line, that final touch results in an amazing transition from the very, very young to the very, very old.

A moment of emotion is seen for solider boy, Ann Sanders, in "The Marriage of Figaro."

Doug Vaughn, representing the class of ancient nobility takes on the task of "taming the most obstinate of shrews," Rebecca Salisbury.

Presentations in the form of plays and musicals have served as highlights of campus activity as well as illustrating the capacity the college student has for such depth and perception. "The Taming of the Shrew" was presented by the Buchanan Players and billed as one of the most successful productions of the year. The musical, "The Marriage of Figaro," was praised by all. Exhibitions such as these are a compliment in the field of fine arts and serve as a stimulus for future activities.

The art of photography, an ever-expanding field, calls for keen imagination as well as a distinct talent for the arts. The camera is used as a brush to create moods, paint personalities, and draw expressions.

The spotlight of glamour seems to be a star in search of true beauty.

Look closely and in the darkness you may find an expression of exuberant joy.

The master's eyes gleam with excitement at the thought of a romance with his humble servant who is also Figaro's fiancee.

FINE ARTS

Campus art exhibits promote cultural appreciation among students and faculty alike.

A dramatic scene from "The Marriage of Figaro" in which song, the very essence of a musical, is filled with expression and emotion by Linda Cook.

Mel Black proposes a toast to the future marriage of the youngest daughter of nobleman, Carlton Sevilles.

MILITARY

The hundreds who learn the art of being a soldier give "spit and polish" to our east campus. All of the marching and disciplinary preludes which becomes a part of the life of the campus cadet revolve around Forrest Hall. This center of activity, named for the irrepressible Confederate cavalryman, has an atmosphere of orderliness and preciseness which could well be emulated by many other halls of learning on our campus.

FORREST RAIDERS

Dedicated to excellency in military subjects, the Beret-Wearing Forrest Raiders are now an established part of the University life. Drawing its leadership from the Advance Course Cadets, this group has trained from the mountains of Colorado to the swamps of Florida always seeking more knowledge in guerrilla and counterguerrilla subjects. In quest of this knowledge many other areas of interest such as Hand-to-Hand Combat, Mountaineering and Stream Crossing Techniques, Snow Skiing, and Scuba Diving are opened to the Raiders. With all the training the Raiders receive, they never lose sight of the two goals they most firmly believe in—"Patriotism and Physical Conditioning."

ORGANIZATIONS

Organizations generate most of the University spirit, as most everyone will agree. The give-and-take of a club session, teaming together to gladden some tiny tot's heart at Christmastime, or planning some program leading to a better MTSU are part and parcel of campus life. Organizations, too, are most interesting extensions of the classroom and the "compleat" student is he who strikes a good balance between the two.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The goals of the Baptist Student Union are to enrich the spiritual life of all Baptist students and to contribute to the summer mission programs. The religious activities of this group are concentrated generally in the Baptist Center located off campus on North Tennessee Boulevard. The faculty advisor is Mr. George Johnson and the pastor advisor is Dr. Eugene Cotey.

The BSU has a varied program of related religious activities. There is an annual Fall Retreat at Camp Hy-Lake at which time new students are introduced to the Union and plans are made for the year. Twenty members attended the State BSU Convention held at Cookeville. The group presented gifts to the local welfare office from funds derived from Christmas caroling and it also sponsors services each Sunday morning at the Rutherford County jail. Other activities include participation in the Concord Association Youth Night, visits to the Veterans Hospital twice each month, conducting radio religious services, and sponsoring a student week-end revival at the Immanuel Baptist Church in Nashville.

WESLEY FOUNDATION

Wesley Foundation is the Methodist Student Center, located at 607 North Tennessee Boulevard. The purpose of the Wesley Foundation is to provide the ministry of the Methodist Church to the university community. There are over 1200 Methodist students at MTSU. The Wesley Foundation encourages their regular contact with their churches at home and also in a connecting link, working with the particular Methodist churches in Murfreesboro.

"Wesley" has an extensive program on campus. Each Wednesday evening it meets at the Center for programs of various types: speakers such as professors, missionaries, social workers, and other prominent persons; drama; films; experiments in contemporary worship; etc.

On Sunday mornings it meets for coffee and donuts followed by a Sunday School Class which concerns itself with issues of theological or social importance.

Two weekend retreats each year emphasize study and fun in a camp or state park setting. "Wesley" is active in campus activities and is a center of recreation and fellowship. Personal religious growth together with parties and regular chats over a cup of tea combine to make a full schedule.

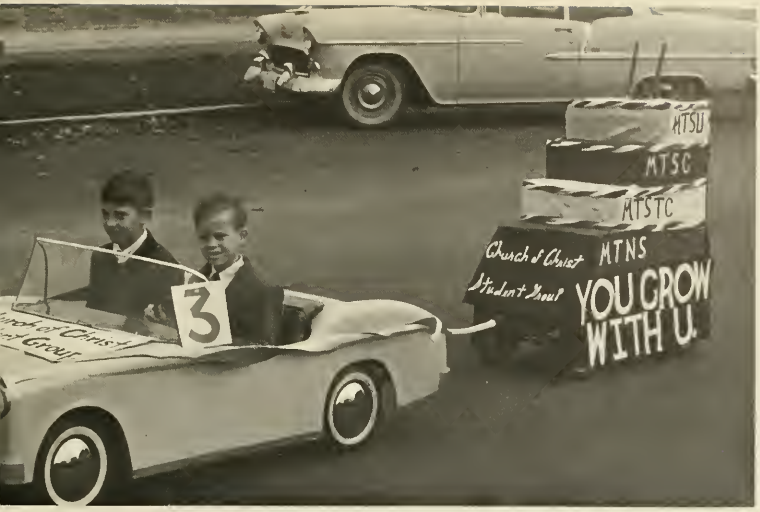
Director is Rev. Richard Shriver and the faculty advisor is Mr. Charles Dean.

Pretty Betty Jane Spry displays a winning smile and a Wesley Foundation Banner for the audience at the Miss Midlander Pageant.

CHURCH OF CHRIST GROUP

Possibly the largest student religious organization on the campus, the Church of Christ Group, meets twice each week. Its attendance percentage is something of a challenge to other campus groups. For example, there has been an average of over one hundred and twenty in attendance each Wednesday evening during the past year. The Church of Christ Group endeavors, in the words of President Don Thornberry, "to promote an education for eternity rather than the mere seventy years we spend on earth." Interesting speakers and other inspirational programs compose the group's forty-five minute devotions at six o'clock each Wednesday evening. In addition there is a twenty-minute devotional period on Monday evening.

A four-night lectureship is held in March and three weekend encampments are designed to promote spiritual growth. Social highlights of the year include several parties and the annual spring banquet. Tina Wells was this year's editor of the "Christian Tie", a tri-weekly publication by the students. Two faculty members meet with the Church of Christ Group. Dr. Wymer Wiser is the general advisor while Miss Christine Vaughan is social advisor.



The Church of Christ Group "steps-up" to university level and cleverly displays their unique slogan in the Homecoming Parade.

The Westminster Fellowship group enjoyes a hike while on the annual Spring Retreat at NaCome.

The Westminster Fellowship is a member of the larger organization that functions on the state level. This organization, known as the Westminster Fellowship of the Synod of Tennessee, is a body of the Presbyterian Church, United States. The campus group meets once each week. Some of the activities include discussions on religious topics of the day and studies in social problems currently facing the nation. Films and filmstrips are often used to illustrate a particular topic discussed. Frequently, off campus speakers are invited as features of the weekly programs. The Westminster Fellowship has set as its goal that of promoting a Christian atmosphere on the campus and of providing outlets for religious experiences.

Highlights of this year included a spring retreat and a project of sending books to a former student now in Lybia. Another project was that of sending a large package of Christmas card illustrations to Presbyterian missionaries. This organization is one of several that is of great service to the away-from-home student. Sponsors are Mr. Robert LaLance and Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Babb.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club, established in 1947 and presently under the direction of Dr. Francis Riel, strives to maintain close relationships between Catholic students and the church. In cooperation with the group, Father Philip Thoni offers guidance and advice to the members of the group concerning their study of other religions in an attempt to better understand the various faiths. The Newman Club meets regularly once each week for planned programs. Frequently, laymen are invited to address the group.

One of the highlights of the year was the Tennessee Newman Club Convention held at St. Rose of Lima in Murfreesboro. The campus Newmans were hosts to some seventy delegates from Tennessee colleges. The club holds a social once each month and a fall picnic at which time incoming Catholic freshmen are honored.

THE CANTERBURY ASSOCIATION

The Canterbury Association, ably directed by Reverend Cham Canon, works in connection with the Episcopal Churches of the university community. An organized program of worship, fellowship, and social work is brought to the student of MTSU through this church organization. The interest of the group lies in the advancement of the Christian faith throughout the community.

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIAN GROUP

One of the objectives of the Cumberland Presbyterian Group this year has been to increase membership and attendance. This objective has been accomplished through the efforts of the 1965-66 officers and the assistance of the sponsor, Dr. John Williams. The Group now meets in the Cumberland Presbyterian Church rather than on the campus. The students have occupied the choir loft on two occasions and have taken active roles in other programs of the church. Several socials during the year have promoted Christian fellowship.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN UNION

The S C U is an organization of students at MTSU whose purpose is to foster a wholesome religious atmosphere on the campus. It strives to aid in developing an understanding of all Christian faiths and to promote cooperation among all religious groups. Its programs are designed to be both educational and entertaining as well as spiritually oriented. S C U co-sponsors the annual Christmas Tree Lighting which is held on the front lawn of the President's home. Moral and Spiritual Values Week is also sponsored by this organization.

LUTHERAN STUDENT ASSOCIATION

The Lutheran Student Association under the direction of Reverend Carl Benz, attempts to study, discuss and experience the various interrelationships of faith and worship. The group is composed of students now attending MTSU from out of state and surrounding areas of Middle Tennessee who belong to the Lutheran faith.

Woody Bomar and Combo entertains at the third and most successful Circle K Speak-out for A.S.B. nominees.

The Circle K Club was organized in 1954. The organization, a junior version of Kiwanis International, has as its purpose to render services, in particular to the Middle Tennessee University campus. The University Circle K club is affiliated with the Kentucky-Tennessee District, and last year attended the district convention in Gatlinburg, Tennessee. Also, two delegates, Chuck Tomchey and Harold Smith, represented the club at the International Convention in Miami Beach. Circle K sponsors the chapter Sweetheart. This year the title was bestowed upon Judi Schricte.

Circle K, in some respects, is the Abou Ben Adam of campus groups. It probably heads the list in the number of sponsored projects. It is an active participant in intramural competition, placed third in the float entry division of the Homecoming Parade, and has placed litter barrels at strategic points on the campus. In addition, it provided a Christmas Party for underprivileged children, a "car smash" to promote school spirit, a campus clean-up campaign, and a get-out-the-vote campaign. It placed first place at Stunt Night and co-sponsored the Miss Midlander Pageant.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Here are the homemakers, the home economists, the dietitians, and the teachers of tomorrow—and tomorrow is not too far distant. And the nicest thing about it all is that there are one hundred and fifty of them. None of these will ever be associated with National Burned Biscuit Day or a "Hole in Every Sock" campaign. These young ladies will rock the cradles, feed the hungry, and teach other younger ladies that home is not a scheduling depot for the family automobile. This, in short, is the Home Economics Club.

The Club came bouncing into the world during the Middle Tennessee State Normal days, 1922, to be exact. It is constitutionally organized for home economics majors and minors and is affiliated with both the Tennessee and the American Home Economics Association. "Involvement" is the chapter theme for 1965-66. Activities include district workshops, state conventions, senior banquets, and Career Day for high school seniors enrolled in area high schools. The Betty Lamp is the symbol of all home economics chapters in the United States. This lamp is called the "lamp of joy, knowledge, fellowship, cooperation, service, and achievement."

MISS HOME ECONOMICS

Instead of hatching chickens, the Biology Club hatched a giant size "U" for a clever entry in the Homecoming Parade.

The Biology Club was one of the first campus groups to be organized. It had its beginning as the Science Club and bore this name until sciences were departmentalized at Middle Tennessee. The Club offers an activity for biology majors and minors as well as for those interested in the biological sciences. In addition, guest speakers, film, and other related activities are provided during the year to stimulate student interest in biology.

Each year the Club sponsors a Homecoming float, a Christmas party, a representative in the Miss Midlander Pageant, a booth during "Holiday Weekend," as well as a spring outing. Its most significant activity during the University year is the Club's Annual Stunt Night. Each year the various campus clubs and dormitories are invited to present original skits to a student audience. In the words of one of the two Club sponsors, Dr. John Patten: "This enables a lot of students, the near-thespians, and others to move into the limelight at least once during their collegiate careers." The Club also sponsors the George Davis Loan Fund which assists biology majors who may be in financial distress.

PRE-LAW CLUB

These fledgling Perry Masons, twenty-three in number, have as their goal that of giving pre-law students ample contacts with practicing attorneys and other individuals possessing the law degree. These contacts are designed to assist students in deciding if they should enter law as a profession, and if so, what area of concentration should be chosen.

The Pre-Law Club was organized for the purpose of fostering interest among students in a legal career. The activities of the organization also appeal to students regardless of their fields of study in that it acquaints them with their responsibilities to their government. It appeals especially to the aspiring legal student by providing speakers from law schools, from the ranks of those already in the profession, and from city government administrations. The Pre-Law Society may be regarded as a reflection of the ever-widening circle of training provided by the University. Many former Pre-Law members are now practicing attorneys.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB

During the past few years Middle Tennessee State University has become a very popualr institution of higher learning for young people of other countries. To assist them in adapting more readily to American mores and traditions and to cushion the language barriers, if any, a counselor has been appointed. The International Club also assists in the transition by providing occasions for socialization and discussion of problems. Frequently, members of the faculty appear before the group and discuss various issues relating to the American culture.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

In an era of chemistry and mathematics, the Chemistry Club is really an elite organization. Its principle objectives are to stimulate an intellectual understanding of the world of chemistry and to create and advance the interests of its individual members. During the year, programs highlighting outstanding authorities in various scientific fields, are presented. In addition, field trips are taken to industrial laboratories in the area. This latter activity is extremely important since it gives purpose and direction to the area of study that the club represents. Dr. June Anderson is sponsor.

LA SOCIÉTE FRANÇAISE

La Societe Francaise was established on the University campus in the fall of 1963. Its primary purpose is to acquaint its members with the true French mode of life. Its forty members were very active during the year. Various activities included a foreign film series, participation in stunt night, a float entry in the Homecoming Parade, the election of an outstanding senior representing the French classes, a series of dinners where only conversation in French was permitted, and a final swim party and dinner at the Officers' Club, Sewart Air Force Base.

DIE DEUTSCHEN KAMERADEN

The title above is a dead giveaway as to the type of club that is herein represented. If your English has served you right and you answered "German" to those leaning over your shoulder, you are correct, pure and complex. The purpose of this club, similar to other organizations derived from subject areas, is to serve as a less-pointed extension of the classroom. It serves, in the words of President John Getsi to "further the knowledge of the German language and culture among the students enrolled in the German classes of the University."

The Young Democrats Club sponsors various political speakers throughout the years. Democratic Senator Ross Bass speaks to a group of politically minded co-eds.

This could be one of the very smug groups on the campus, what with Democratic ascendency on the national level and at most every other level. But, strangely enough, it is a very active organization and the pot continues to boil. The Young Democrats learn their politics in a collegiate atmosphere and will undoubtedly be intelligent assets to their community—and to their PARTY—during their alumni days.

In order to "bring the mountain to Mahomet," several important political figures have been invited to the campus. Tennessee Senator Ross Bass made an appearance on one occasion and gave a program largely devoted to questions and answers on current issues. On two other occasions two possible candidates for the high office of Tennessee Governor presented programs. More utilitarian activities include local precinct work during the last Presidential election and a fund raising campaign to purchase clothing for indigent families. A decorated car entry bearing the Young Democrat aegis in the 1965 Homecoming Parade was a first place winner.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS CLUB

The Industrial Arts Club was organized in 1935 under the direction of Mr. O. L. Freeman. During World War II the club disbanded due to the paucity of male students. It was reactivated in 1947 through the efforts of Dr. Delbert Dyke, now Dean of Faculty at Sul Ross College, Alpine, Texas. Other sponsors through the years have been Dr. Ed Voorhies, Mr. Harold Jewell, Mr. Neil Ellis, Mr. Calvin Duggin, Mr. Melvin Schneeberg, and Mr. Harold Baldwin. The current sponsor is Mr. Wilbur Fesmire.

The Industrial Arts Club is one of the most active at the University. The handsome bulletin board near the front steps of the Student Union Building was constructed by this Club for the A.S.B. The Industrial Arts Club's float was a second place winner in the Homecoming Parade. Other activities include visitations to several area industries, preparation of signs for the Speech Department, and the annual banquet and picnic.

Winning second place in the annual Homecoming Parade was the intricately designed Industrial Arts' float.

MENC placed on the scale means Music Educators National Conference. It was established in 1957 and the present membership totals forty. MENC is nationally affiliated and attempts to develop readiness among music students to enter the teaching profession. Student members enjoy monthly programs and guest speakers who discuss problems related to the different areas of music. Activities this past year include a float entry in the Homecoming Parade, an outdoor social, and serving as concessionaries at music festivals. Mr. T. Earl Hinton is the sponsor.

THE ORCHESIS

The Orchesis came into being during the Spring semester of 1965. Very few, outside of the physical education classes, knew at the time just what had come into being until the news leaked out that this was another name for the Modern Dance Club. With this mysterious, if not imposing, new name going in their favor the young ladies went on their merry way in the wonderful world of gyratory interpretation. The first president, or chief interpreter, was Charlotte Buck. Rebecca Powell was the first vice-president and Carol Toddy the secretary-treasurer.

The Orchesis, or if you prefer, Modern Dance Club, launched out into their first project on May 8, 1965. On this occasion the Modern Dance Workshop was held in University Memorial Gymnasium. Some sixty-five people from colleges and universities throughout the Southland participated. Again, the Orchesis, or if you're prejudiced, Modern Dance Club, meets each Wednesday in the dance studio. Activities include participation in the "World of Dance" each fall and in the swimming show each spring. Several fund-raising projects keep the members in leotard money.

COLLEGIATE COUNCIL FOR THE U.N.

The Collegiate Council for the U. N. was organized in the fall of 1963, its purposes being to express support of and belief in the United Nations, and to build a more informed student support for the United Nations. In the past the club has sponsored United Nations Day in the community, brought speakers and films to the campus concerning world affairs, sent a student to the conference at Harvard University, sent a student to New York in 1965 to participate in a practical study relating to the U.N., sent delegation to the 1965 Midwest Model United Nations in St. Louis, co-sponsored the Harlem Magicians in a show on the campus, and co-sponsored Dr. John Stoessinger, a speaker in the Public Affairs Lecture Series.

THE YOUNG REPUBLICAN CLUB

The Young Republican Club is a relatively new organization on the campus. It was founded at the convention of the Tennessee Federation of Young Republican Clubs on May 25, 1963. The initial membership—six students—has swelled to twenty-eight. "While the membership is still small but growing," quotes President David Hornik, "it is evidence of the rising concern of the students for better government." Activities include attendance at a mock Republican national primary held at Vanderbilt University and contributions to support Republican candidates at all levels. The Club was a second-place decorated automobile winner in the 1965 Homecoming Parade.

COLLEGIATE 4-H

Ever heard of "Head, Heart, Hand, and Health" or "To Make the Best Better?" You're right, give that smiling young man down by the corn-crib five silver dollars. For this is the Collegiate 4-H Club and those quotation-enclosed words in the first sentence represent mottos for that organization. The calf and hybrid corn raisers group was formed at the University in 1963. Its goal, as stated by President Joe Wayne McGee, is that of developing qualities of leadership and citizenship among its members. It functions primarily as a service organization. Plans are in the making for an accelerated program of assisting area 4-H clubs at the secondary school level.

The Collegiate 4-H membership meets monthly and presents programs associated with the agricultural theme. The club was a participant in the Biology Stunt Night. Mr. J. E. Young is the sponsor.

AMERICAN GUILD OF ORGANISTS

Organized in 1947, the American Guild of Artists was the first student group of this type in the United States. Its purposes are (1) to advance the cause of worthy church music, (2) to raise the standards of efficiency of organists by examinations in organ playing, and (3) to provide members with opportunities for discussing professional topics. This very active group performs at both campus and off campus recitals. Members from this organization also provide the Christmas music in our two cafeterias.

The Block and Bridle Club, organized in 1959, has as its primary purpose that of promoting animal husbandry in the principal area served by Middle Tennessee State Univ. The MTSU chapter is a member of the National Block and Bridle Club. Shortly after its organization, it fostered the annual Farmers' Frolic which is the only square dance promoted as a part of Campus Fun Night. This year the club sent representatives to the National Convention in Chicago. Each year the club sponsors an FFA Opportunity Day and judging teams for the Southern Region Livestock and Dairy Conference. The Block and Bridle organization boasts one accomplishment above all the rest as highlighting its seven-year existence. This was the lead taken by the club in organizing the Intercollegiate Cattle Judging Conference of which six colleges are now members. Sponsors of the club are Dr. Robert Alexander and Mr. J. E. Young.

BUCHANAN PLAYERS

Members of the Buchanan Players at MTSU receive excellent training in acting, stagecraft, makeup, lighting, and directing. A student must work five hours in some phase of stage activity each semester in order to remain a member. The Players give as their purposes the following: (1) to stimulate among the students of the University an interest in the art of drama, (2) to find and develop the talent of acting and producing, and (3) to assist the members of the Buchanan Players to qualify for membership in the honorary dramatics fraternity.

The Players have a most imposing array of productions to their credit for 1965-66. The first presentation was Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" which was staged in November. This was followed by the opera, "The Marriage of Figaro." The Buchanan Players were responsible for the production while the Music Department did the casting and the music. An arena production, William Gibson's "Dinny and the Witches," was an event in March. The season's finale, Thornton Wilder's "Skin of Our Teeth," received many accolades for its producing and acting. Mrs. Dorothe Tucker is sponsor of the Players.

Figaro trills his love song in a scene from "The Marriage of Figaro."

The Booster Club homecoming float well illustrates the spirit and boundless energy this organization contributes to student life.

The Booster Club is a relatively young campus organization but it has developed into a very essential force at athletic contests. It promotes a feeling of good sportsmanship throughout the student body, and promotes and protects the best interest of MTSU. Boosters have been responsible for several busloads of students traveling to foreign fields both during the football and basketball seasons. Besides promoting school spirit, the Club has sold booster buttons, pennants, sponsored a decorated automobile in the Homecoming Parade, and entered a participant in the Miss Midlander Pageant.

The 1965-66 membership was the largest in the history of the Club which might be one explanation for the new level of school spirit at the University. Many freshmen who were caught up in the enthusiasm generated by the Booster Club this past year will probably continue as avid supporters of their Raider teams. Booster clubs of the future will be dedicated to the task of continually stoking the embers, if they successfully emulate the pacesetters of 1965-66.

T CLUB

The T Club was organized in 1947 during Coach Charles Murphy's first year at Middle Tennessee State University. The Club has fluctuated in membership from year to year but has played a prominent role in campus activities. The 1965-66 membership is forty with Coach Murphy as sponsor. Its principal purpose is to promote a closer association among the various athletic teams. Also, it has attempted, with much success, to bridge the gap between the so-called "athletic colony" and the student body.

Membership in the campus organization is the beginning of a long association with succeeding Raider athletic history. Many of the athletes will enter coaching as many of the past have done. They will be in a most strategic position to serve as on-the-spot recruiters for the Raider teams. Much of the success of the long regime of Coach Charles Murphy has been due to the loyalty reflected by alumni T Club members.

VETERANS CLUB

Yes, the University still has veterans on the campus. In fact, membership is now fifty-five and it remains one of the finest service-minded groups at the University. The Club was established by veterans of World War II in 1947. It was originally planned as a social and service organization for members of the student body who had been in the Armed Services. During the first year the constitution and by-laws were written and adopted. Its original purposes then and now are to serve the University and to be of benefit to its members. It plays an active role in most University functions and provides social events for the members and their guests.

The Club engages in a wide range of activities. This year an eye glass fund was established. This provides assistance for veterans, whether Club members or not, in purchasing needed glasses. Last year another fund was established for the purpose of providing assistance to veterans in such necessary items as books, tuition, and room rent. In 1954, the Club staged its first Talent Show which subsequently evolved into an annual affair. In 1962, the beauty contest was an additive at which time a Miss Veterans Club was selected. Other activities include a decorated automobile entry (first place winner) in the Homecoming Parade, a freshman information test, and a Christmas Party for the Veterans Hospital.

Trailing close behind the club officers in the Homecoming Parade was the ultimate club symbol . . . A sports car deluxe.

The club was organized in the fall of 1963 under the leadership of Sid Franklin. It has been active during the past three years in promoting safe and courteous driving and in sponsoring events for the enjoyment of its members and others.

The 1965-66 University year brought many firsts for the club. A team was entered in the Sixth Annual Great Tennessee Rally and placed third. The first Annual Raider Ramble was run in December. For the first time, the club sponsored two gymlchanas on campus. Many good films were obtained for entertainment which were shown at the close of the monthly business meetings. A car and trailer were decorated and entered in the Homecoming Parade. Some of the members grouped together and travelled to Sebring for the annual twelve-hour endurance race. During 1965-66 the club enjoyed its largest membership since it was founded. In March a charter was obtained from the State of Tennessee and the club now operates as a non-profit organization.

S.N.E.A.

Fledglings, or teachers-to-be, get their first brush with professional organizations in their membership in the campus Student National Education Association. And perhaps, because it is a well organized group with planned programs and objectives, it provides excellent transitional training for entrance into the larger professional organizations. The Future Teachers of America for the Middle Tennessee State University chapter was formed on April 17, 1946. In 1958 a change in the title was effected with the new designation "Student National Education Association" for the campus young teacher group.

The major goals of S.N.E.A. are that of strengthening and unifying special interest professional groups. Many outstanding educators appear on the programs. There are some student-originated programs as well. Study is made of the teaching profession through participation in the work of the local, state, and national education associations. There are occasions when the campus organization works together on problems of the profession. It is anticipated that this near-simulation of actual conditions will provide better informed teachers for Tennessee schools and schools of other states.

University Mermaids and their male counterparts compose the splashingest club on the campus. The Tritons, small numerically, are among the most skillful aquatic performers and they meet regularly to practice in preparation for a few public performances during the year. The home of the Tritons is the Natatorium located to the east of Memorial Gymnasium. Here, in a temperature-controlled atmosphere, aquatics become an activity for all of the months of the year.

The highlight of the year is the annual water show which is presented in the glare of flashing lights and music. This has developed into one of the most popular campus shows of the year as it is always staged before a packed house. Miss Sally Kate Makinnon is the sponsor.

GYMNASTICS CLUB

They're not Barnum and Bailey nor are they rank amateurs from Coogan's Branch. They're a group of agile and near-agile young men who have learned to live rather dangerously on padded mats or a reasonable facsimile. This is the Gymnastics Club to which reference is made. The club swung into the constellation of campus organizations in 1963, unofficially, that is. During the University year of 1964-65 everything was made legal and it became a bonafide group with officers and a yen to raise money.

Membership is small, fifteen in fact, which is an indication that most campus Joe's take a dim view of all the swinging, jumping, and fracturing that goes on during the rest periods at basketball games. Members have even competed intercollegiately on several occasions and have appeared in shows at area schools. The club was well represented in the Veterans Hospital "Show of Stars" and in the campus "Fine Arts," dance and aquatic shows. Mr. Robert LaLance, Jr., is the sponsor and in this role is chief caretaker of the liniment bottles and traction pulleys.

Brenda Lichenfelt, a member of the Gymnastics Club, displays her skills at a club meeting.

The Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Club has as its major goal the stimulating of interest in the profession of physical education. And the members appeared to have accomplished this mission through several channels. In the first place, the club members attended two conventions. These were the Southern District Convention which met in Louisville, Kentucky, and the Tennessee H.P.E.R. Convention which met in Memphis. In the second place, the club sponsors a dance in the "World of Dance" program. Also, a most popular annual event is the Powder Puff game. Whether this event stimulates an interest in physical education is open to some discussion. However, it does draw well and it enunciates a very important point: The female of the species have done right well by themselves by leaving the serious football activities to the males.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association was reorganized in 1963 to serve as a valuable athletic activities promoter for women students at MTSU. W.A.A. has succeeded in developing a competitive intramural program involving team games of volleyball, basketball, and softball. The club also sponsors an extramural basketball team which competes in tourneys with other institutions and participates in a tournament at Carson-Newman College. One project of W.A.A. is to support a scholarship fund to be used by a senior member of the club for her matriculation at the University. Each year the W.A.A. sponsors an entrant in the Miss Midlander Pageant.

Upon graduation many of the W.A.A. members will enter recreation work or will coach. Many of the W.A.A. alumnae now serve as highly successful physical education directors in both elementary and secondary schools.

The Women's Service Club, which had its initial meeting in May, 1965, and was approved by both the ASB and the administration of MTSU in the fall of 1965, became an active organization in January, 1966. The purpose of WSC is to serve the needs of the club, the campus, and the community. The club works in cooperation with the Murfreesboro Jaycettes. To be a member of WSC a woman student must: carry at least 12 hours; have a 2.0 scholastic average; be of sophomore, junior, or senior class standing; and be willing to work for the enhancement of the club's service program. The club's plans for the future include aiding the Murfreesboro Girl Scouts, making projects for the Children's Homes, sponsoring an annual dance, aiding freshmen, transfers and international students in adjusting to the campus (in conjunction with existing organizations), sponsoring open lectures of interest to club members, printing a semi-annual paper, and having a semi-annual tea for orientation purposes.

Sponsors of the club are Mrs. Ann Farris and the Murfreesboro Jaycettes.

Mr. David Walker gives pre-contest instructions

The 1965-66 Middle Tennessee State University forensic season was very successful both in terms of tournaments and quality of participation. An indication of the fraternity's wide range of activities is the listing of the following tournaments that were a part of Pi Kappa Delta's program this year: Dixie Debate Tournament at Macon, Georgia; Western Kentucky; Carson-Newman Novice Tournament; Harding College Tournament, Searcy, Arkansas; MTSU Novice Debate and Judging Tournament; Tennessee State Tournament at Memphis State University; Magnolia Debate Tournament at Mississippi; and the Pi Kappa Delta Regional Tournament.

Records achieved, particularly in the Tennessee State Tournament, were very impressive. In the Tennessee tournament, MTSU finished third in the Sweepstakes. The Varsity Debate Team composed of Doug Vaughn and Bob Freeman were second place winners while Larry Barker and Katy Petty were third. Doug Vaughn was judged best debater in the tournament. The state champions were Doug Vaughn—oral interpretation; Bob Freeman—extemporaneous speaking; and Gail Colebrooke—oratory. Janet Brown finished second in impromptu speaking and third in impromptu speaking. The MTSU squad won six trophies and fifteen certificates.

RODEO CLUB

"Turn that bull out," rang out the voice that could be heard quite a ways in the young spring afternoon. And, sure enough, out of the paddock he came with a wild bellow and a cloud of dust. Everybody in the bleachers alongside shuddered an anticipatory shudder as the big Brahma leaped and gyrated in a most antisocial way. His face, contorted in a low-bicarbonate grimace, reflected his level of esteem held for this rodeo, or any rodeo for that matter. Up front, bobbing like a cork in a fish hatchery, was a human being, one of the University students, in fact. Ten seconds later, or thereabouts, the rider arched through the air and slammed against the arena fence followed shortly by the bull who still wore his feelings on his sleeve. But the bull was lured away by the clown, the student scrambled away, and another big event was concluded. This was the Rodeo Club at play.

This marginal-safety group was organized in 1963 to stimulate interest in rodeoing, which is to say "Missioned Accomplished." Two shows were presented this past year, including an intercollegiate event at McMinnville and another on the University campus, the latter solely for the twenty-six club members and interested paying spectators.

The Rodeo Club student activity is fostered by the up-and-coming Agriculture Department. Mr. Earl Young is the sponsor.

Flavor of the Rodeo Club is captured in its Homecoming float.

BOOK VIII

ADMINISTRATION

Rapid increases in enrollment do not mean just numerical increases—something of the same—in administrative and instructional staff. It means new dimensions in University services, new and unique curricular additions, and an ever-changing concept of what a University's role should be. The movement from adequacy to excellence is clearly evident as the administration and faculty edge into the second half of the decade.

President and Mrs. Quill E. Cope.

DR. QUILL E. COPE

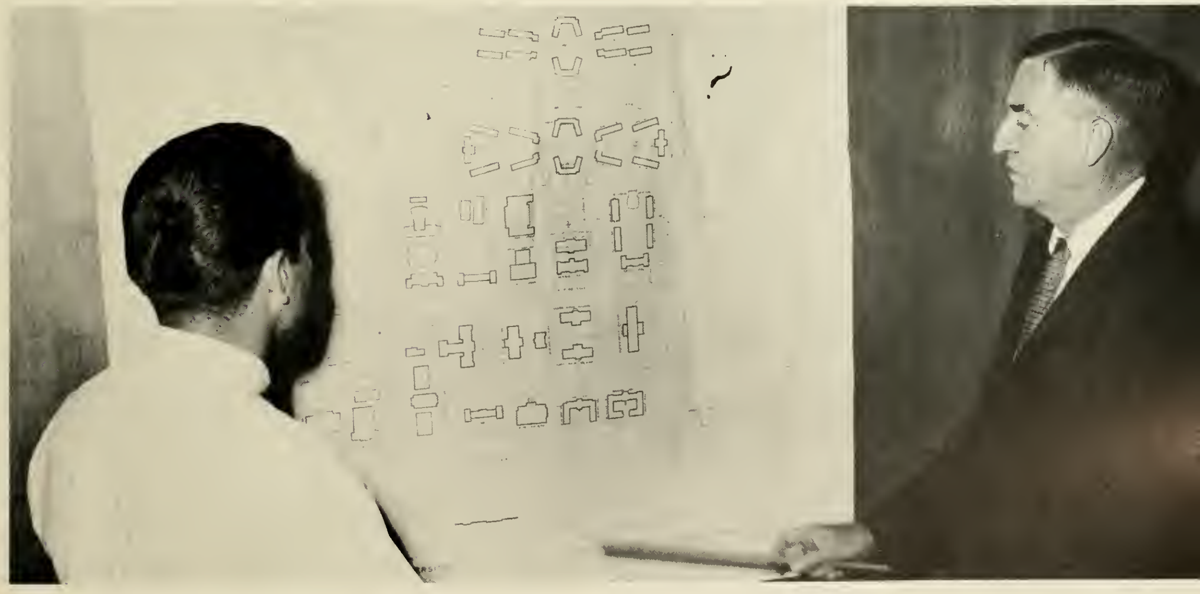
President

Standing at the apex of the huge triangle representing Middle Tennessee State University is Dr. Quill E. Cope who is in the eighth year as President. The campus, spread over 748 acres, is analogous to a small city, with its security force, streets, sanitation department, parking lots, and maintenance crews. Its population consisting of students, administrative and instructional staffs, maintenance, custodial, and service personnel is comparable in size to many Tennessee municipalities. Although Dr. Cope, as a true administrator, has made delegations of responsibilities to effect efficient operation of the vast acreage and its population, in the ultimate responsibility every iota of campus affairs is channeled to his desk. In this context the leaking faucet in Gore Hall to the decision to construct a new science building, in the last analysis, rests in the President's category of awesome and sometimes ulcer-inducing responsibilities.

Since coming to the University in 1958, he has gained the utmost respect from his administrative and instructional staff as an energetic and wise administrator. He has captured the admiration of the members of the student body as one who is very sensitive to their needs and opinions. It is generally known that his office in the Administration Building open to each "citizen" of the "city" and each will receive an unhurried, sympathetic hearing in the "big office."

Despite the President's necessary involvement in much of the minutiae of University operation and the great problems of keeping abreast of developments in higher education, he is a frequent attendant at campus functions. His inevitable companion is Mrs. Cope who, as the charming First Lady of the campus, is, in essence, the University's unofficial hostess.

In Dr. Cope's position at the apex of the University triangle, he finds himself as the one who, despite his well-organized line-staff organization, is charged with the "last word." In the words of a piece in a 1914 Normal Signal, which described the woes of an early football team, he is "tremendously alone"—for only he, in light of University-wide consideration, can make the decision. The excellent University program and its public image are tributes to his wisdom in these matters.



GOVERNOR OF TENNESSEE
Frank G. Clement

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The Tennessee State Board of Education is charged with the responsibility of setting policy and recommending improvements for the public schools of Tennessee and the colleges and universities, excepting the University of Tennessee. Composed of thirteen members, including the Commissioner of Education who is also Chairman, it meets quarterly to wrestle with problems attending a growing student population. Governor Frank Goad Clement is an ex-officio member of the Board and has been adjudged as one of the three great education chief executives since Tennessee statehood in 1796. Two members of the Board are University alumni. Mr. J. Howard Warf, Commissioner, is a member of the Class of 1930. Great strides in improvement in higher education have been made under his administration. One of his star-studded achievements has been his role in initiating a junior college program for Tennessee. The other alumnus, Class of 1938, is Mr. Edward Jennings of Nashville. He is vice-president of Belmont College and has been honored twice with the presidency of the National School Board Association. Mr. Jennings was the Board member responsible for introducing the intra-board resolution that led to University status.

Middle Tennessee State University can attribute much of its growth in facilities and curriculum to the counsel and assent of this excellent body of state leaders.

Seated: Mr. Edward L. Jennings, Mr. J. Frank Taylor, Mr. J. H. Warf, Chairman, Mrs. B. A. McDermott, Mr. T. R. Keys. Standing: Mr. Harold D. West, Mr. James Williams, Mr. John W. SCHOOL OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Dissecting is essential to the study of anatomy.

Under the umbrella of the School of Arts and Sciences are found the departments of Biology, Mathematics, Chemistry and Physics, English, Speech and Theatre, Foreign Languages, and History. All of the work within the School is transferrable to other institutions. Preparation for secondary school certification in subjects offered in the liberal arts and sciences is provided. The finest traditions of liberal arts colleges are upheld in the broad curriculum open to students who desire training in the humanities and sciences.

Beginning on July 1, the School will expand its departmental designations to include the department of Political Science, Sociology, and Geography. This expansion is another index to the changes motivated by University status and unprecedented increases in enrollment.

DR. JOHN PATTEN

BIOLOGY

The Biology Department's curriculum is designed to prepare good teachers for Tennessee schools and for graduate work in the biological sciences. From quartering a frog the student goes on to sterner things and many of those currently in medical science owe their success largely to the sound, basic training at MTSU.

The Department sponsors the Biology Club which has established the George Davis Biology Club Loan Fund. This club also stages the traditional "stunt night" each year.

The validity of a law is established by actual experimentation.

The Department of Chemistry and Physics is making significant progress in keeping abreast of the world's rapidly-changing technology. Dr. Wade Gilbert returned from a year at Harvard and promptly obtained a sizeable grant from the National Science Foundation for the purchase of advanced physics equipment. Dr. Ed Woods, the department's biochemist, spent six weeks in Guatemala studying the nutritional problems of Central America.

New courses have been added and plans are underway to improve course offerings in inorganic chemistry. Staff members have been busy with plans for the new science building which is in the blueprint stage.

Dr. Eldred Wiser heads the widely-publicized National Science Foundation Institute which returns this summer for its seventh session.

HISTORY

Beginning with the summer term, the Department of History will offer a Master of Arts degree. New courses in the wake of the graduate degree include seminars in Diplomatic History, Colonial and Early American History, and Latin American History. In addition to their instructional duties, several members of the department have been active in research and writing. Research grants have been awarded to Dr. James Huhta, Dr. James Burrow, Dr. Norman Ferris, and Mr. Fred Crawford. Also, Dr. Robert Corlew, department head, is collaborating with two other Tennessee historians in preparing a college textbook on Tennessee history.

Reference materials, solitude, and a sharp memory are the materials needed for preparation for history exams.

LANGUAGES

Once upon a time the library was, at least building-wise, the hub of the campus. It still is, but it has been re-named the Murphree Building and the library has moved to the east side of the quadrangle. In its post-library days the Murphree Building serves as the home of the Language Department. And the Department can rightly be called the "hub" today since it is, hands down, the largest on the campus.

Majors in this Department may become teachers, writers, reporters, editors, radio and television announcers or enter many other fields.

MATHEMATICS

DR. HARRIS DARK
Department Head

Similar to several other University departments, the Department of Mathematics is in the throes of rapid growth. New courses have been added and, during the 1965-66 University year, sixteen full-time teachers staffed the classrooms. Dr. Harris Dark, department head, outlines the preparation areas in mathematics as follows: (1) for teaching in elementary and secondary schools or junior colleges; (2) for entrance into graduate schools or professional schools of medicine and engineering; (3) for entering careers in business and industry; and (4) for majors in mathematics, in the natural or physical sciences, or in other areas with mathematics requirements.

Departmental staff members participate in the Tennessee Mathematics Teachers' Association which administers an annual state-wide test in mathematics and promotes other activities in the interest of mathematics at both the secondary and college levels.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

In its long history, the Social Science Department at MTSU has been headed by two men, the late Dr. C. C. Sims, a political scientist from the University of Chicago, and Dr. Norman L. Parks, who, with the separation of the disciplines next fall, will assume the headship of the Political Science Department.

However, a general social science program will be continued for those preferring a broad liberal education and those desiring to teach the social sciences in high school. An interdisciplinary M.A. degree in social science will also be offered.

Credits to the Social Science ledger this year include among others a strengthened M.A. program, additional research facilities, the sponsorship of four student organizations, an imposing activity feedback of social science graduates, and sponsorship of the prestigious Public Affairs Lecture Series. Dr. Norman Parks, department head, summarizes the purpose of the Social Science Department in the following words: "Our courses are designed to make liberally educated young people rather than specialists."

SPEECH AND THEATRE

The Speech and Theatre major receives training and practical experience which prepares him for work in a variety of fields. These include teaching, community theatre, professional theatre, radio and television, and other areas demanding special training offered in this department.

Speech and Theatre sponsors the Buchanan Players, Alpha Psi Omega, and Pi Kappa Delta, and various forensic programs.

The department is housed in the Dramatic Arts Building which offers the very latest training facilities to be found in Tennessee as well as in other states in the southeastern region.

Members of the Buchanan Players are seen selling tickets for one of the year's outstanding productions, "The Taming of the Shrew."

SCHOOL OF BUSINESS AND INDUSTRY

According to Dean Firman Cunningham, the principal purpose of this School under his direction is to prepare students for positions demanding skills in modern business and industry. The various programs of the school help to provide the broad professional background that is the basic requirement of the business executive.

Departmental designations include Accounting, Agriculture, Business Administration, Business Education, Economics, Industrial Arts, and Military Science. Nursing Education will be an addition to this School's family effective in the fall of 1966. This new department will offer the Associate Degree in Nursing and will attempt to fill a great need existing in nursing ranks.

The Division of Aviation, through the Industrial Arts Department also comes under the jurisdiction of this School. The Division has played a prominent role in the annual Aero-Space Workshop which comes to the University campus each summer.

ACCOUNTING

The Accounting Department courses are designed to acquaint students with the current trends and practices in our dynamic society. Students acquire an adequate background for graduate study, sitting for the CPA examination, public accounting practice, and for the many specialized areas of industrial accounting.

The department has recently organized an Accounting Society exclusively for the above-the-average students who major in accounting. For the past two years, MTSU accounting students have scored well above the national average on the American Institute of Certified Public Accountancy achievement test. Many grants, scholarships, and opportunities are available to those excelling in accounting.

AGRICULTURE

The Agriculture Department offers a curriculum that is designed to prepare students to cope with modern day problems in agriculture as well as problems that aren't directly related to the agriculture sector of our modern and dynamic society. The department has made many changes in its curriculum in light of modern agricultural trends. Among the subjects that depart from the traditional are Light Horse Production, Farrier Science, Advanced Equitation, Agriculture in Our Lives, and Turf Management.

Dr. Robert Alexander, department head, is the author of a monthly feature on horses which is carried in The Livestock Breeder's Journal. Other staff members are contributors to the Tennessee Farmers Magazine.

Two non-academic organizations, the Rodeo Club and the Block and Bridle Club, and one academic group, the Delta Tau Alpha Fraternity, are sponsored by the department.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The Business Administration Department, a new department created by the segmentation of the former Business Department, offers three majors. These are business administration, management, and marketing. The coming of departmental status also brought eight new courses ranging from Principles of Life Insurance and Business Finance to Research Analysis and Sales Management. Dr. Fowler Todd, Department Head, indicates that the "courses are designed to prepare a student to secure a position in the business world or to enter graduate study for an advanced degree."

In addition to being affiliated with two professional fraternities, Alpha Kappa Psi and Pi Sigma Epsilon, the Business Administration Department sponsors the University Marketing Association which works with area department stores in presenting fashion shows.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The Business Education Department, under the direction of Mr. E. W. Midgett, will add a new course, Machine Shorthand, next fall. MTSU will be the first accredited college or University in Tennessee and probably the second in the South to offer this course. Other strides forward in this department include an electronics classroom, eight new shorthand practice booths, and a room equipped with all electric typewriters.

One of the strong programs in this department is the major in Secretarial Administration which prepares specifically for supervision of stenographic pools and for office managers.

The source of pride in the Business Education Department is the Gamma Chi Chapter of the Pi Omega Pi, business fraternity. It is one of two campus fraternities whose requirements are high enough to enable its members to become eligible for the association of College Honor Societies. This adds approximately $1000 to the initial salary of members who obtain certain federal government positions.

ECONOMICS AND FINANCE

Study in the Department of Economics encompasses a wide diversification in keeping with the demands of the modern economic world. Several departmental majors have entered the field of insurance, while others have chosen private business. Others have become teachers of economics. Economics and finance are the two majors offered by this department.

Four new courses, Allocation of Economic Resources, National Income Analysis, Economics for Decision Making, and Economic Problems, have been added this year. Although our culture may not lean too heavily in the direction of economy-mindedness, it is economics-minded, and traning in this Department may lead the non-major through, what some have called, the inflation maze in our country.

Taking notes is a vital part of classroom lectures.

A prerequisite to courses in economics and finance is to have ample time in which the student may gather various statistics and research information.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The principal activities of the Industrial Arts Department are concerned with preparing teachers of industrial arts for the public schools and in offering an industrial-technical background for those who desire employment in industry. The Department sponsors a very active Industrial Arts Club and the Epsilon Pi Tau, an honorary industrial arts fraternity.

A desire to expand departmental services has caused four new areas of study to be added to the curriculum. These include Production Planning and Control, Methods and Work Measurement, Work Sampling and Quality Control, and Design of Manufacturing Enterprise.

The Industrial Arts student experiences practical training in a workshop atmosphere.

MILITARY SCIENCE

The 1965-66 ROTC Cadet Brigade has increased its enrollment to a record high of 1630 students and at the same time has increased the scope of its activities. Some highlights include activities by the Sam Davis Drill Team, the Men's and Women's Rifle Team, and the Forrest Raiders. The drill team has become famous for its precision drill and has received national recognition. The team was again outstanding in the Mardi Gras festivities in New Orleans.

The Men's and Women's Rifle Teams also competed on the national level, and the Men's Team highlighted the year by finishing second at the Mardi Gras rifle matches in New Orleans. The Forrest Raiders, an elite group of ROTC cadets devoted to the study of counterinsurgency training, enjoyed a trip to a branch of the United States Army Ranger School in Florida.

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

Actual experience is the greatest education of mankind. Harold Coe muses as he basks in the glow of the capitol.

DR. WILMOTH BOWDOIN
Dean of School of Education

The School of Education has as its over-riding objectives that of preparing teachers for the classrooms of Tennessee. Although many of the University's teacher-graduates leave the convocation platform to staff Volunteer State faculties, still others can be found in at least forty additional states. The instructional program is therefore geared to the national scene as well as being Tennessee oriented.

Departments bearing the School of Education aegis include Education, Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, Home Economics, Art, and Music. The Campus School, serving as a laboratory for University teachers-to-be, is under the supervision of this School.

In 1911, the founding fathers of the University designated the institution specifically for teacher training. Although state college and subsequently, university status, have brought many new emphases, many of MTSU's graduates still enter teaching as a life's profession.

ART

Probably one of the greatest services provided by the Art Department is that of training art teachers for the secondary schools, particularly those in Tennessee. Before MTSU placed considerable interest on art activities, the high school art teacher was a rarity in the MTSU service area.

Much of the success of the Art Department is due to its artist-teacher staff. All members of the art faculty have been actively involved in creative work in their various fields of interest and preparation. Their works have been shown widely in competitive and invitational exhibitions. In addition, they have served as speakers for various educational and civic groups. Mr. Joe Orze, department head, has conducted several series of art lectures and demonstrations for Channel 2, Nashville's educational television station.

The Education Department provides the professional courses designed to prepare elementary and secondary teachers. Preparation for elementary majors is analygous to the rural general store, where a great variety of merchandise ranging from snuff to plow points is carried on the shelves. The elementary major likewise samples a wide area of subject matter in preparation for the self-contained classroom. On the other hand, the secondary major's schedule of courses can be compared to the wares in a shoe store. Here there is concentration on one product. In a like manner, the secondary major specializes in one area, with probably a minor emphasis or so.

The Education Department coordinates these efforts and guides the student toward certification. Training in kindergarten work is a new dimension in the departmental course offerings.

DR. FRANCIS RIEL
Department Head

The Health, Physical Education, and Recreation Department has many purposes. Aside from its emphasis on basic health education for all people, regardless of vocational plans, it provides training in health and physical education teaching, coaching, recreation, and in other related areas.

One of the strong features of the department is informal in nature. This is the intramural program which involves literally hundreds of students in after-class and evening activities. These activities include basketball, swimming, tennis, touch football, volleyball, and many others.

Three members of the department have recent publications to their credit. Dr. Fran Riel (department head) and Miss Beulah Davis have co-authored a volume entitled Happy Dancing. Dr. Price Harrison has a study in a recent issue of The Research Quarterly of the AAHPER.

HOME ECONOMICS

Actual application of principles is the best teacher.

Guidance is greatly welcomed by eager students.

At least this does not encompass the varied program at the Ellington Building, home of the MTSU Department of Home Economics. Preparation areas range from vocational home economics teaching and extension work to social welfare and lunchroom supervision. Close at hand is the Nursery School which provides laboratory experiences in child development and family relationship. Not to be forgotten in the efforts to prepare young women for professional careers is the intensive training available for the future homemaker.

The Ellington Center is a focal point for many areas, regional and state meetings including teachers of home economics, extension workers, school lunchroom workers and the Tennessee Wool Association.

MUSIC

Of all of the departments on the University campus, the Music Department has the greatest public exposure. Behind-the-footlights' activities include string trio demonstrations (exactly twenty-two this year in area public schools), piano and organ recitals, voice recitals, string-lecture demonstrations, and other public programs. The Band of Blue performed before a television audience in Washington, D. C., on November 28. At least three staff members (Mrs. Margaret Wright, Mr. Joseph Smith, and Mr. Milton Ryan) have music publications to their credit and Mr. Joseph Smith and Mr. Horace Beasley have served as adjudicators for music festivals on several occasions.

By far the most highly publicized single unit on the campus is the Sacred Harp Singers under the direction of Mrs. Wright.

Pipe in mouth and deep in thought, Mr. Smith readies his Band of Blue for the halftime performance at the Washington Redskins vs. Dallas Cowboys pro football game.

THE LIBRARY

The Andrew L. Todd Library, whose location many students have already found, has a collection of one hundred and sixteen thousand books, periodicals, and newspapers. In addition to the book collection, the holdings of the library include some periodicals on microfilm, filmstrips, and a small collection of phonograph recordings with facilities available for the use of these. One of the most interesting areas in the library is the Tennessee Room wherein a rare collection of Tennesseeana is available for research and casual reading.

The Department of Library Service makes available eighteen hours of credit in the various areas of library operation and administration.

CAMPUS SCHOOL

The Campus School, derived through an evolutionary pattern from the Ecole Normale or "Model School," still serves primarily the Education Department, in addition to being a very excellent elementary school. Its original purpose, that of providing teaching experiences for fledgling teachers-to-be, now has been abandoned. It now has more of the complexion of a laboratory center where new ideas and instructional techniques can be introduced on an experimental basis. Also, it provides observation experiences for University education classes.

The Campus School has now extended its program to include organized summer activities. These are largely devoted to the enrichment areas including classroom work, typing, field trips, swimming, and others.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

This year represents the fifteenth anniversary of the launching of the University graduate program. Dr. Howard Kirksey, the present Dean of Faculty, was largely responsible for its initiation and development through the years. In 1962, it become the Graduate School and, in 1965, Dr. Ralph Kirkman was appointed as Dean.

Originally, a graduate major was offered only in the field of education. A graduate program in science was added in 1959, and in subsequent years, majors in social science, mathematics, health, physical education, and recreation were developed. New areas of service, beginning in June of this year, will include English and history, and a minor in business administration. Changes in designations in degrees, i.e., Masters of Arts in Teaching, Master of Science in Teaching, as well as others, are planned for the immediate future.

The University graduate program has grown considerably in prestige since its inception and other significant developments are anticipated under the direction of Dr. Kirkman.

CLASSES

Pre-professional, terminal, four-year, graduate—and there are others—that are bandied about in the constellation of the University's five level of classes. From these will come the businessman, the surgeon, the storekeeper, the lawyer, the engineer, those who teach others, and an indeterminable diversity of professionals at all levels known to man. These are the moments of decisions, crystallizations, and most important, dedications.

Freshman Carylon Cooper conveys an inquizative look as she makes her first debut in a university beauty pageant.

Never let it be said that the Freshman class is a quitter. "Pile on boys. Just cause we didn't finish our float doesn't mean we can't ride in the Homecoming Parade."

A FINAL FAREWELL . . .

Another year is finished; another book of memories is in your hands; and for us, an end to three wonderful years has come all too soon. May we take this opportunity to express our thanks to the many people who have helped us produce two momentous yearbooks and two successful beauty pageants. A first for this year is that our Miss Midlander will also be a contender for the Miss Tennessee Pageant.

We can never express our deep gratitude to Dr. Homer Pittard. The faith that he placed in us became like a light unto our paths. We wish to thank all faculty and administration members for their fine cooperation. A big thanks also goes to Mr. John Benson, whom it has been the pleasure to work with these past years, and to Mr. Joe Smith, our patient photographer. Thanks to Mr. Jim Norton, Mr. Sam Causey and Delbridge Studios, Mrs. Donna Kay George, and Miss Linda Wilbanks.

The MIDLANDER was printed in the offset lithographic process by Benson Printing Company of Nashville, Tennessee.

This book is the storehouse of memories from your university years. Our efforts will have been well rewarded if these pages recall some of those cherished memories in the years to come.

Danny Holder
Editor

. . . SHE PREPARES FOR THE FUTURE . . . and what will the future hold? What kind of world will we place in the hands of those who will make the decisions of tomorrow . . . war, poverty, disease, minds distorted with prejudice, peace, prosperity, universal health, brotherhood, and contentment. To those who have been taken from our midst to fight for these intangible satisfactions, to those who remain among us with hopes of teaching, guiding, or leading America's youth, to those who have devoted a lifetime to the betterment of a war-torn world, we give to you our thanks and our hopes for the future.

> "Let the word go forth from this time and place, > to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been > passed to a new generation of Americans . . ."
> John F. Kennedy

ADVERTISEMENTS

Each succeeding yearbook editor feels some compulsion to explain to the reader that he is now entering the Contribution Section and he must proceed in his perusal out of a sense of loyalty to his friends, the staff members. Too, the editor always seems to sense that the ghost of the advertiser lurks in the background. All of this may have had some basis at one time—but not so anymore.

With attractive formats, picture imbellishments, and color, the sales pitches found in the last section of the book become advertising in perpetuity. There should be no apology for its worth as advertising.

However, it should be remembered that our friends in business have assisted in financing this book, even though we believe that they spent their money well. Our sincere hope is that you will repay them in kind by your patronage.

Latest campus face-changing by Melson Contractors, Inc., is this high-rise seven-story domitory for women. Located on the east campus, it is the skyscraper of University buildings.

As a yearbook editor, wouldn't you like—

- √ complete creative art assistance in planning and designing your book
- √ actual known production performances (by records) of substantially less than 10 weeks, as required by most yearbook manufacturers. No contract claims, either, of an additional 4 days on delivery for each 1 day any deadline is missed
- √ an association with a firm who has specialized in designing yearbooks perhaps longer than any other company
- √ our insistence of your reading and checking page proofs to avoid (or at least minimize) possible glaring errors in the completed edition
- √ an all out effort to please you in design, quality, and service at competitive prices

What more could you ask?
